City Council accepts resignation from Jeff Paine

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The Arlington City Council, during its regular meeting on Monday night, Oct. 7, unanimously approved a motion to accept the resignation from maintenance worker Jeff Paine effective Friday, Oct. 11.

City Council members Ben

Jaszewski, Jennifer Nuesse, Jason Ruehling, Curt Reetz and Galen Wills all voted in favor of the motion.

"Thank you for the opportunities you have provided me during my time with the city," Paine wrote in his letter of resignation. "If I can be of any assistance during this transition, please let me know."

Paine was hired by the City of Arlington during September of 2008.

In conjunction with the move, the City Council also agreed to advertise for the full-time maintenance worker in the Public Works Department. The application deadline will be Friday, Oct. 25.

The plan is to interview candidates on Tuesday, Nov. 5 and fill the position by the end of November.

In other business, the City Council also discussed the transitional period.

The Streets Committee, comprised of Ruehling and Wills, recently met and made an offer to Paine to assist with setting up Christmas lights on Main Street and other potential duties that may arise for $15 per hour.

Paine, according to the Streets Committee, counter offered with 1 1/2 times his current hourly rate or a little over $25 per hour.

The City Council believed the 1 1/2 rate was too expensive. After some discussion, the City Council authorized City Administrator Liza Donabauer to arrive at a plan and ask former and current part-time employees to assist with various duties at a much lower hourly rate during the transitional period.

Commissioners take 1st step to combine county treasurer and auditor positions

By Dave Pedersen
Correspondent

Sibley County Attorney David Schauer was directed to write a resolution that would combine the elected auditor and treasurer offices by no later than 2019.

This first step was taken at the meeting of County Commissioners on Tuesday, Oct. 8. After approval of the resolution, the next step is to ask the voters at the November, 2014 election if the position should become an appointed position or remain as an elected position, effective Jan. 1, 2019.

Another question could be should the county recorder remain as an elected position or changed to appointed.

Since the offices cannot be combined until current four-year terms are concluded at the end of 2014, the earliest this can take place is January, 2015.

However, to know if the public would want this new office to be appointed or elected, either a referendum vote or special legislation has to take place prior to the 2014 general election. First notices would have to go out by the end of this month.

County Commissioner Jim Swanson said he has been often asked why Sibley County has not combined the offices such as in other counties. He said he likes to do things through attrition, such as what the county did in combining the public health and human services departments last year.

Swanson added that the board can go on record to announce it will combine the two positions on first vacancy, be it by a retirement or by the end of the terms in 2019.

"This way, if we are only hearing a squeaky wheel, there is the option for the public to request a reverse referendum," said Swanson about if the push for combining the offices is a minority opinion. The consensus of the board is to move ahead.

County Administrator Matt Jaunich said the county board does have the authority to combine the offices through a resolution which requires a four-fifths majority vote of the board.

If the board does not require a referendum to combine the elected positions, voters may demand a referendum by filing a petition of a number of voters equal to 10 percent of those voting in the county at the last general election.

Steps for an appointed combined auditor-treasurer include seeking special legislation or a referendum with approval.

Jaunich handed out a comparison listing the pros and cons between having an appointed vs elected auditor, treasurer and recorder system.

Jaunich noted that with elected positions there is limited ability to expand duties other than those that are defined by law.

If the positions are appointed, it would allow the county board to pre-determine a set of qualifications and duties and institute those into a job description to be used in the performance of the position.

It would allow for a hiring process by the county board based on qualifications and experience. It also could potentially allow for other collaborative efforts with other offices.

"One of the things to think about surrounds the idea of what is our long-term goal and vision for the structure of our county government?" said Jaunich in his fact-finding memo. "This is something we really have not discussed in detail."

Jaunich suggested it may be best for the board to have a workshop session where it has an in-depth discussion on the structure of the workforce and where it would like to be in the future. Plus, there is a proposal to do an organizational study.

The administrator suggested the study and workshop be concluded before taking the route of appointment with these positions.

Schauer said he will bring wording for the resolution to combine the offices to the board meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 22.

The County Commissioners will hold their next regular meeting at 9 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 22.

No bids received yet for vacant lots in Green Isle

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The City of Green Isle has not received a bid to date in conjunction with the sale of 43 vacant lots in that community.

That was the news reported by Mayor Dale ZumBerge to the Green Isle City Council during a regular meeting on Tuesday night, Oct. 8.

ZumBerge did report that the City of Green Isle has received one telephone call and one other inquiry in regard to the vacant lots.

History

The City Council, during the previous regular meeting, unanimously adopted a resolution to offer the sale of 43 vacant lots to the highest bidder.

The vacant lots, about one year ago, were forfeited to the State of Minnesota, according to the Sibley County Auditor's Office and Sibley County Assessor's Office.

The City of Green Isle, over two months ago, regained the ownership of the 43 lots originally developed by the Rosemount Development Corporation.

A few of the lots are located in the Green Isle Third Addition and Green Isle Fifth Addition. Most of the lots are located in the Green Isle Sixth Addition and Green Isle Seventh Addition, according to the Sibley County Auditor's Office.

The bids may be for individual lots or for all of the lots together. The sale terms will be cash on closing. The City of Green Isle, however, reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

The sealed written bids must be delivered to the Green Isle City Clerk at the City Office or mailed to the Green Isle City Office, P.O. Box 275, Green Isle, MN, 55338. The deadline is Tuesday, Oct. 15.

The City Council will open and consider the sealed bids during a closed meeting on Tuesday night, Oct. 22.

The City Council hopes to recover special assessments which average approximately $15,000 per lot, according to city officials. Potential buyers will not have to pay delinquent property taxes to the State of Minnesota, Sibley County and City of Green Isle. Although the City of Green Isle expects to take a loss on the sale of any lot, city officials believe it is more important to get the properties back on the tax rolls rather than have the city own them.

The special assessments, delinquent property taxes, penalties and interest on the 43 lots, one year ago, was $717,280, according to the Sibley County Auditor's Office. The delinquent property taxes and penalties have since been waived so the new total for the special assessment is approximately $660,000.

The City of Green Isle originally bonded for the development of the seven additions. The special assessments were to be used to make the bond payments.

Completion date for Highway 5 Project is pushed back again

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The completion date for the Highway 5 Project from Arlington to Green Isle has been pushed back once again, according to a representative from the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

The completion date, which was most recently set at Monday, Oct. 14, has now been pushed back to Monday, Oct. 21.

The paving between the two communities is expected to be finished on Thursday, Oct. 10.

The touch up on the aggregate shoulders is scheduled to take place on Friday, Oct. 11 and Monday, Oct. 14.

The construction crew is expected to grind in the rumble strips on Tuesday, Oct. 15 and Wednesday, Oct. 16.

The highway is expected to be striped on Wednesday, Oct. 16 and Thursday, Oct. 17.

Although the highway could be completely open on Friday, Oct. 18, the goal date is Monday, Oct. 21, weather permitting.

In the meantime, the current detours will remain in effect.

As announced in the Arlington Enterprise last week, there is now a shorter detour from north of Arlington to Green Isle. The new detour is from County Road 9 north of Arlington to County Road 15 just west of Green Isle.

Knife River Corporation - North Central of Sauk Rapids is the contractor on the project that includes seven miles of pavement replacement and a mill and overlay in Green Isle.

The cost of the project is approximately $5 million.

Another update on the project will be published in next week's edition of the Arlington Enterprise.

Sibley County finds way to support Lake Titlow dam funding request

By Dave Pedersen
Correspondent

The Lake Titlow dam project funding request by the City of Gaylord was granted by the Sibley County Board of Commissioners at the meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

The County Commissioners found a way to offer support without setting too much of a precedent in case other dam projects in the county also requested support.

At the Sept. 10 meeting, the county board heard a request from Gaylord City Administrator Kevin McCann requesting between $10,000 to $20,000 contribution from the county to assist in the $575,000 replacement of the existing dam that is 100 years old and is no longer effective in holding water back.

Due to the costs and the regional impact of the dam, Gaylord submitted a Capital Appropriation request to the State of Minnesota. Local legislators agreed the dam is a big need, but wanted local groups, including Sibley County, to come up with at least a 10 percent funding commitment.

The county board directed County Attorney David Schauer to research possible ditch proceedings that could be used to address this request from Gaylord.

The board voted 4-1 to pledge at least $10,000 contingent upon Gaylord receiving the bonding that would cover 90 percent of the cost. Sibley County's contribution would be about two percent of the cost.

Schauer reported at the Sept. 24 meeting that there are two ditch systems that drain into Lake Titlow. Schauer highlighted three potential possibilities for the county to consider including proceeding with a ditch improvement project to CD 18 or JD 18.

The county also could provide for the order to construct a dam pursuant to state statute. The board could also provide general funds to Gaylord for it to construct the dam.

The county attorney expressed concern about how the use of general fund dollars on the Lake Titlow dam project could complicate the funding of other dam projects within the county.

Nicollet area without power after crash last Saturday

By Kurt Menk
Editor

Nearly 600 residents in the Nicollet area were without power much of Saturday morning, Oct. 5, after a car crashed into a utility pole at the intersection of Highway 14 and Highway 99, according to the KNUJ Radio website.

Ryan S. Ellingson, 19, Courtland, was driving a Toyota Corolla when he reportedly lost control of the vehicle at 2 a.m. Saturday, Oct. 5, ac-ording to the report. The vehicle entered the ditch and knocked over a utility pole.

Ellingson was not seriously injured, according to the report.

However, nearly 600 Xcel Energy customers were without power until after 9 a.m. due to the damaged power lines, the report said.

The pole was replaced, the lines repaired and power was fully restored, according to the report.

First copy of the paper hits the news stands

The newspaper is a combination of the Fairfax Standard, Gibbon Gazette and Morgan Messenger.

The newspaper will continue to cover GFW schools, Cedar Mountain schools, the City of Morgan, City of Gibbon, and the City of Fairfax.

Nearly 2,500 car-deer crashes reported in Minnesota last year

There were 2,488 car-deer crashes reported in Minnesota during 2012, according to Sergeant Jacalyn Sticha from the Minnesota State Patrol.

In addition, there were 230 accidents involving other animals.

Overall, eight of these nearly 2,500 crashes were fatal while 325 accidents resulted in injuries.

“Our best defense is to expect deer, especially, at dawn and dusk in the fall and spring,” said Sticha. Scan the road/horizon continually, which we should be doing anyway. Being alert and scanning may buy you extra seconds, allowing you more time to slow down. This will reduce the impact if you hit the deer or allow you to avoid it safely. We do not want drivers to go off the roadway or into oncoming traffic lanes, for obvious reasons.”

Sticha added, “We have all heard the saying, ‘if you see one deer, there are likely more,’ maybe at that location or just down the road.”

“Unless we want to get into the dam business, that leaves the two other options,” said County Commissioner Bill Pinske about not wanting to take money from the general fund.

County Commissioner Jim Swanson said he wants to see the county give some sort of support to the dam project. His first choice is to do a ditch improvement where viewers would determine benefits.

“The problem with that is it pushes us out six to eight months and this goes to the bonding committee in November,” said Swanson, who added the county could pledge funds now and have a ditch improvement project ready to go by May when bonding funds may be available. “It could be a win-win where funds do not come out of our coffers, but the ditch fund.”

County Commissioner Harold Pettis asked if there is a problem with two different government entities involved, with one owning the dam and the other paying for it.

Schauer said the law allows for outside contributions to be paid to the ditch authority, such as a grant or bond funds.

Swanson said other dam projects are much smaller and if the county did help based on this precedent the cost would be far less. For example, he said the dam on Clear Lake is about six feet compared to the Lake Titlow dam of about 100 feet.

The cost estimates for three other dams in the county are $66,000, $70,000 and $76,000 compared to around $600,000 for the Lake Titlow dam.

County Commissioner Jim Nytes said the county has the obligation to help keep property values up. Pettis was the lone no vote.

In other business, the board has a conflict with the board meeting scheduled on Dec. 10, so the meeting was changed to 9 a.m. Thursday, Dec. 12.

The meeting on Dec. 24 was previously changed to Dec. 23. The first meeting of the new year will be Tuesday, Jan. 7. By law it has to be the first Tuesday after the first Monday. Board meetings are normally the second and fourth Tuesdays each month.

Free items are popping up on local boulevards

Our View: The issue has become an eyesore in the community

In the past, local homeowners would place free items along their boulevard for a short period of time. The hope was that other local residents would pick up these items and homeowners would escape the cost to discard these objects. These innocent gestures never seemed to cause any problems.

This popular trend, however, has recently escalated to a whole new level where some local homeowners now place these free items out on their boulevard for a much longer period of time. Some of these items have also become an eyesore and have created dangerous situations.

In one case, a refrigerator was placed near a curb where a child could have easily climbed inside and closed the door. In another circumstance, a couch remained out on the boulevard in the rain. Who wants a couch that has sat out in the rain for a couple of days?

Although there is a junk ordinance, the City of Arlington has no specific ordinance on the books to deal with these free item situations. The problem is every situation is different. A couple of free items out on the boulevard for a few days can be innocent while other objects along the curb for a long period of time can become an eyesore and even dangerous.

A move by the City Council to bring back the annual clean up day in April might help solve part of the problem. However, a move by the local police department to keep an eye out for junky and dangerous items along boulevards would have more of an immediate impact and hopefully reduce most of the issues in question.

In the end though, it comes down to local homeowners. Innocent gestures by a majority of local homeowners can be ruined by reckless and dangerous moves by a small group of people. The last thing Arlington needs is another ordinance on the books for local residents.

A young boy had just gotten his driving permit. He asked his father, who was a minister, if they could discuss the use of the car. His father took him to his study and said to him, "I'll make a deal with you. You bring your grades up, study your Bible a little and get your hair cut and we'll talk about it."

After about a month, the boy came back and again asked his father if they could discuss use of the car. They again went to the father's study where his father said, "Son, I've been real proud of you. You have brought your grades up, you've studied your Bible diligently, but you didn't get your hair cut!"

The young man waited a moment and replied, "You know Dad, I've been thinking about that. You know, Samson had long hair, Moses had long hair, Noah had long hair, and even Jesus had long hair."

To which his father replied, "Yes, and they walked everywhere they went!"

Feeling edgy, a man took a hot bath. Just as he'd become comfortable, the front doorbell rang. The man got out of the tub, put on terry cloth slippers and a large towel, wrapped his head in a smaller towel, and went to the door. A salesman at the door wanted to know if he needed any magazines. Slamming the door, the man returned to the bath.

The doorbell rang again. On went the slippers and towels, and the man started for the door again. He took one step, slipped on a wet spot, fell, and hit his back against the hard porcelain of the tub.

Cursing under his breath, the man struggled into his street clothes and, with every move a stab of pain, drove to the doctor.

After examining him, the doctor said, "You know, you've been lucky. Nothing is broken. But you need to relax. Why don't you go home and take a long hot bath?"

After a young couple brought their new baby home, the wife suggested that her husband should try his hand at changing diapers.

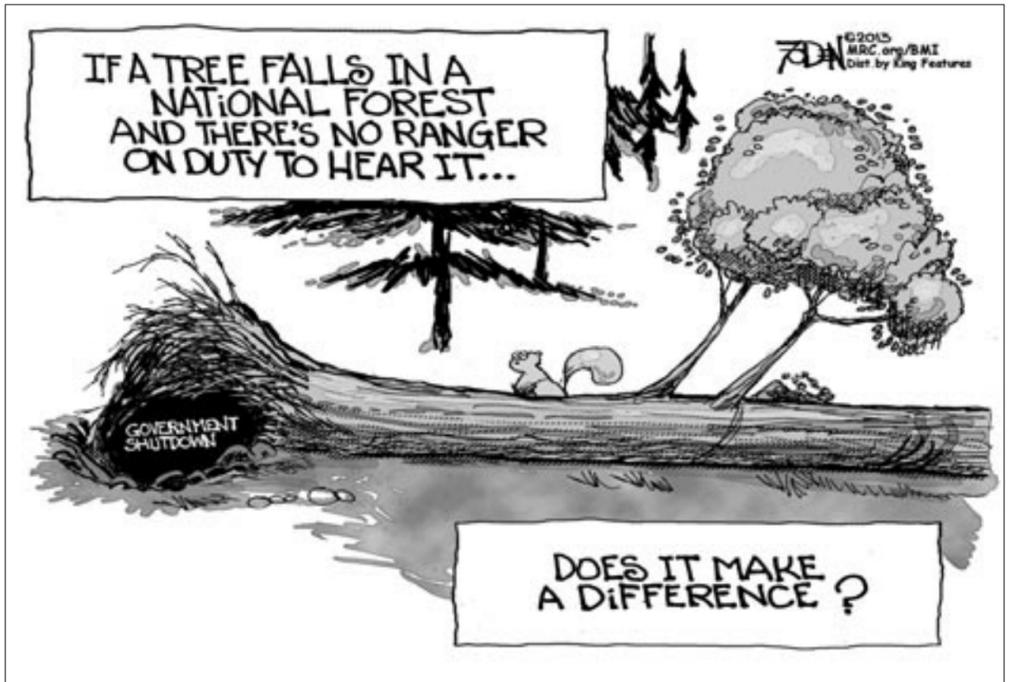

"I'm busy," he said. "I'll do the next one."

The next time came around and she asked again.

The husband narrowed his eyes as he looked at his wife. "I didn't mean the next diaper. I meant the next baby."

Question: What did the police officer say to the midget complaining that someone picked his pocket?

Answer: I can't believe someone would stoop so low.

Letter To The Editor

Nuclear power in the 21st century

To The Editor,

Recently the USS Minnesota Stealth Nuclear Attack Submarine was commissioned. It is a high tech marvel and wizardry, powered by an ultra-efficient nuclear reactor. The nuclear material that powers the submarine is about the size of a human fist. It will power the submarine for over 35 years. Yes, you read that correctly, 35 years.

Many people are unaware of the tremendous technological advancements in efficiency for nuclear energy. In addition, the nuclear waste currently stored in the U.S. can now be reprocessed under current technology to utilize more than 90 percent, leaving less than 10 percent of the nuclear waste to remain.

Unfortunately, our nation has laws against reprocessing nuclear waste. President Carter passed this law in the late 1970's. Republicans generally support building new nuclear power plants because they recognize the advancements in technology for nuclear power and waste. Generally the Democrats in our State and Nation have failed to recognize technological advancements in dealing with nuclear power waste and have refused to support the repeal of these laws. Instead, Democrats controlled by the radical extremist environmentalist movement, have supported the expensive agenda of wind turbines and solar power, which are only being built as a result of government mandates and huge subsidies per megawatt hour. As an example, natural gas receives a subsidy of 25 cents per megawatt hour. In contrast, wind turbines receive a government subsidy of over $23.37 per megawatt hour (source: Minnesota REA).

New proposals by the Federal EPA and recently passed Minnesota solar mandates under Democrat leadership will raise the cost of electricity even higher. The radical environmentalists have also influenced some in the Republican Party, but the majority opposes these energy boondoggles, as does the Republican platform.

Modern nuclear power is environmentally safe and soon we will be able to reprocess 99 percent or all of our nuclear waste. American ingenuity has always solved environmental problems when not encumbered by government ignorance.

Informed and activated citizens can be influential, as they demand that legislators vote to repeal the nuclear power plant ban in Minnesota and the federal ban on reprocessing nuclear waste.

Many readers will fondly remember the advertising jingle; "Electricity is penny cheap from NSP to you". With the advancements of modern technology, electricity could once again be penny cheap and this could fuel an economic recovery that would create a prosperous future for our children and grandchildren.

Remember, our country was founded on limited government because our founding fathers realized that whenever government becomes overly involved in almost any thing, it creates waste, fraud, abuse and higher costs.

The Superintendent's Note Pad

Superintendent explains use of test results at SE

By Jim Amsden
Sibley East Superintendent

September has flown by and the start of the school year greeted our students and staff with some extremely hot weather and difficult classroom conditions due to the heat and humidity. Now, students and staff are being greeted with crisp mornings and cooler fall breezes.

During the last month the Minnesota Department of Education released scores for the 2013 Minnesota Comprehensive Assessments (MCA). These tests are the most commonly referred to measures of how our students are performing academically. It should be noted that the results are not always consistent for a variety of reasons. Each year a different set of students are measured and different exams may be given. This was the case with the implementation of the MCA III for reading in the spring of 2013. This test was aligned to more challenging career and college readiness standards and was more rigorous than the previous MCA test.

Sibley East Schools use the MCA testing results from grades 3-11 in several ways. First, it allows us to monitor the progress of every student who has taken the exam. Instruction can be individualized to help students become more proficient and strive to meet and exceed the standards. The results of entire grade levels allow us to assess curriculum and ensure that it is aligned with standards preK-12 and improve programming for all students. Finally, professional development can be linked to helping staff members hone their teaching craft, embed standards in their class curriculum and help all their students grow academically. Most importantly, using and recognizing the data, both good and not so good, helps make our school system stronger and increases our students' opportunities for success.

Finally, I would like to recognize and say congratulations to senior Ben White who was named a Commended Student through the National Merit Scholarship program, Amy Sell and the ECFE program for gaining a four star rating in the Parent Aware Program and receiving $25,000 in Early Learning Scholarships Pathway II from MDE to extend the number of days offered to 4 year olds and improve ECFE programming and Amanda Feterl who was recognized in the Minnesota Educator Magazine for her use of technology in art education.

If you have questions, concerns, or comments regarding Sibley East Schools please feel free to contact me at the district office 507-964-8224 or email jamsden@sibley-east.k12.mn.us.

Football Lights

A section of lights located on the northwest corner of the football field temporarily went out during the Sibley East and Norwood Young America game on Friday night, Oct. 4.

The lights went out late in the first quarter and came back on very early in the second quarter. The game, however, still continued during the outage.

There is only one more regular season game scheduled at home this year. That game is Wednesday night, Oct. 16.

The Sibley East School Board will have some difficult decisions to make on the football lights which are estimated to cost $125,000.

Plus, weeds are growing in cracks across the track.

Joke

It was a particularly tough football game, and nerves were on edge.

The home team had been the victim of three or four close calls by the officials, and they were now trailing the visitors by a touchdown and a field goal.

When the official made yet another close call in the visitors' favor, the home quarterback blew his top.

"How many times can you do this to us in a single game?" the quarterback screamed. "You were wrong on the out-of-bounds, you were wrong on that last first down, and you missed a clip in the first quarter."

The official just stared. The quarterback seethed, but he suppressed the language that might get him tossed from the game. "What it comes down to," the quarterback bellowed, "is that you stink!"

The official stared a few more seconds. Then he bent down, picked up the ball, paced off 15 yards, and put the ball down. He turned to face the steaming quarterback. "And how do I smell from here?"

Jared Allen

Minnesota Vikings defensive end Jared Allen reportedly stopped at the Sibley East fifth and sixth grade practice in Arlington on Tuesday, Oct. 8.

That must have been a thrill for the young Wolverines. It's a shame nobody bothered to call the local newspaper to take a picture.

The Sibley East varsity football team rallied for three second-half touchdowns and defeated visiting Norwood Young America 20-14 in Minnesota River Conference action on Friday night, Oct. 4.

The Raiders, on their first possession, drove 67 yards before junior quarterback Isaac Hormann rolled out and ran eight yards for a touchdown. Sophomore Zach Schnabel followed with the extra point kick as NYA raced to a 7-0 lead with 3:25 left in the opening quarter.

The Wolverines, meanwhile, ran only three offensive plays during the entire first quarter.

NYA, on its next possession, marched 36 yards before Hormann hooked up with senior Casey Clemensen on a 23-yard touchdown pass. Schnabel again booted the extra point kick as the Raiders increased their lead to 14-0 with 11:56 left in the second quarter.

NYA maintained that lead into halftime and a few minutes into the third quarter until the Wolverines began to mount a long drive.

Sibley East faced a fourth-and-five at the NYA 29-yard line when senior running back Erik Danielson took a handoff and raced 29 yards for a touchdown. The extra point kick by senior Quentin Gex was no good as the Wolverines drew within 14-6 with 8:56 remaining in the third quarter.

The Wolverines scored their next touchdown, on a fourth-and-two play, when Danielson hit paydirt on a 5-yard run. A pass for the two-point conversion fell incomplete as Sibley East climbed within 14-12 with 8:14 left in the fourth frame.

Sibley East, one possession later, scored the go-ahead touchdown when Danielson found the end zone on a 29-yard run with just 4:33 remaining in the fourth quarter. Senior Beau Swenson ran for the two-point conversion as the Wolverines grabbed a 20-14 lead and eventual win.

"I thought we played very well in all three phases of the game in the second half, but not so much so in the first half," said Sibley East head coach Chuck Hartman. "The defense actually did not play bad in the first half. We just allowed them to make some plays. We knew we had to clean those mistakes up at halftime. On offense, we were not hitting the holes with authority early on and we also put ourselves in some long yardage situations. In the second half we really got after it."

The Wolverine offense compiled 248 total yards in the victory.

Danielson sparked the ground game with 25 carries for 171 yards and three touchdowns. Swenson contributed eight rushes for 56 yards. Senior Alex Pedraza added 20 yards on eight attempts.

Senior quarterback Brody Rodning did not complete a pass in five attempts.

"The offensive line did a nice job as did the tight ends Colton Bates and Nick Haupt," said Hartman. "Beau Swenson ran hard and blocked well and Alex Pedraza got us tough inside yards when we needed. Erik Danielson made some great runs because of those guys, but a couple of his broken tackles are what we call 'weight room plays.' He broke the tackle and stiff-armed the defender on the go-ahead score because he squats 500 pounds and cleans 300 pounds. Beau Swenson made a couple blocks because he was in the weight room all summer. It shows."

The Sibley East defense pitched a shutout during the entire second half.

Senior Ben White led the defense with seven solo tackles, eight assisted tackles, one tackle for a loss, one quarterback sack and one forced fumble. Senior Cordell Bates collected two solo tackles, three assisted tackles and one quarterback sack while sophomore Logan Jorgenson had two solo tackles and four assisted tackles. Sophomore Christian Figueroa recorded three solo tackles and three assisted tackles while sophomore Travis Schmidt added five assisted tackles.

"The defense really stepped up and did their jobs," Hartman said. "I thought the defensive line played with better pad leverage and the linebacking corps was able to flow and get into their run fits better the second half."

Hartman added, "Our kids played with a lot of heart that cannot be underestimated how important heart is in high school sports."

The Wolverines will travel to Le Sueur-Henderson at 7 p.m. Friday, Oct. 11.

No surplus either-sex deer permits available for 2013

For the first time since surplus permits were offered in 2007, no leftover either-sex deer permits are available for purchase after the lottery deadline, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) said.

The DNR offered 38,850 either-sex permits in 58 deer permit areas this year. Every permit area received applications for at least 100 percent of the permits available.

In lottery deer areas, firearm and muzzleloader license holders who intend to take an antlerless deer must have an either-sex permit; otherwise, they are restricted to hunting bucks. The total bag limit for deer in lottery areas is one deer per year. Availability of leftover permits has declined since the development of the hunter choice management designation, which was first used in 2011. Similar to lottery areas, hunter choice-designated areas have a bag limit of one deer; however, no limit is placed on the number of available either-sex permits and lottery applications are not required.

Blaze orange safety requirements reduce hunting accidents, DNR says

With Minnesota's small game hunting season underway and the firearm deer season set to begin Nov. 9, the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) says making a blaze orange fashion statement this fall might not get you on the best-dressed list, but it just might save your life.

"Wearing blaze orange clothing is a safety requirement to hunt or trap during Minnesota's small game season or deer season," said Capt. Mike Hammer, DNR enforcement education program coordinator. "It's important to be seen by others."

Small Game Seasons: At least one visible article of clothing above the waist must be blaze orange when taking small game, except when hunting wild turkeys, migratory birds, raccoons, predators, when hunting by falconry, trapping or while hunting deer by archery while stationary.

Deer Season: The visible portion of a cap and outer clothing above the waist, excluding sleeves and gloves, must be blaze orange when hunting or trapping during any open season where deer may be taken by firearms (including special hunts, early antlerless, youth seasons and muzzleloader). Blaze orange includes a camouflage pattern of at least 50 percent blaze orange within each square foot. This restriction does not apply to migratory bird hunters on waters or in stationary shooting locations or to trappers on waters.

"The failure to wear blaze orange puts a hunter in jeopardy of not being seen by someone who does not take the time to properly identify their target and what's beyond it," Hammer said.

Hammer recommends faded blaze orange garments be replaced.

"Blaze orange, more than any other color, is the most easily seen and recognized bright, unnatural color against a natural background," Hammer said. "This shade of orange is the only satisfactory color for hunters to wear under all weather and light conditions. The color of the cap, vest, or coat should be plainly visible from all sides while it is being worn."

From the standpoint of hunter safety, the wearing of this high-visibility color while deer hunting and while small game hunting in heavy cover, such as for grouse and pheasant, is a great communications tool.

"Blaze orange clothing is a tremendous aid in helping hunters maintain visual contact with one another, particularly when moving through dense cover or woods," Hammer said. "Any hunter who has ever identified someone strictly by seeing blaze orange knows its value in keeping track of other hunters in the field."

For those that use ground blinds, Hammer said to remember to place some blaze orange on the outside of the blind for others to see. Tent style blinds can fully conceal even the best dressed hunter.

Some safety tips for non-hunters:

Wear bright clothing. Choose colors that stand out, like red, orange or green, and avoid white, blacks, browns, earth-toned greens and animal-colored clothing. Blaze orange vests and hats are advisable.

Don't forget to protect pets. Get an orange vest for an accompanying dog.

Make noise. Whistle, sing or carry on a conversation when walking to alert hunters that someone is in the area. Sound carries well across woods and forests, and hunters should listen for any sounds of animal movement.

Be courteous. Don't make unnecessary noise to disturb wildlife. Avoid confrontations.

Make presence known. If a nonhunter hears shooting, the person should raise their voice and let hunters know they're in vicinity.

Know the dates of hunting seasons. Learn about where and when hunting is taking place.

If hunting makes a nonhunter uneasy, the nonhunter should choose a hike in a location where hunting is not allowed.

Avoid deer-vehicle crashes this fall

Nearly one-third of car-deer collisions each year occur between now and November, said the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR), citing a national report.

Minnesota is ranked eighth when it comes to car-deer crash totals, according to State Farm Insurance, which tracks the trends nationwide. Most states, the company reports, are seeing a decline in their numbers. There are two exceptions: Wyoming and Minnesota.

Though most people would expect these crashes to be more likely in rural areas, motorists in urban regions of the state also need to watch out for these dangerous — and sometimes deadly — accidents involving deer. Minnesota has 3 million drivers and 136,000 miles of roadway.

More than 20,000 deer-vehicle accidents are reported annually, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

While trying to predict when and where a deer and motorist will meet is an impossible task, drivers who understand how deer behave are more likely to avoid a crash. The DNR advises motorists to use these driving tips to help avoid collisions with deer:

See the signs. Deer-crossing signs are posted in high-risk areas. Drive with caution, especially in the posted areas.

Deer don't roam alone. Deer often run together. If one deer is near or crossing the road, expect that others will follow.

Danger from dusk to dawn. Watch for deer especially at dawn and after sunset. About 20 percent of these crashes occur in early morning, while more than half occur between 5 p.m. and midnight.

Safety begins behind the wheel. Always wear safety belts and drive at safe, sensible speeds for road conditions.

If a vehicle strikes a deer, motorists should report the crash by calling local law enforcement, the sheriff's department, or the Minnesota State Patrol. By following these tips and maximizing one's situational awareness, it becomes less likely to experience a deer-vehicle crash.

Strong walleye population continues in Leech Lake

The results of recent fall test netting on Leech Lake conducted by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources (DNR) show the walleye population remains strong and anglers who visit Leech Lake should continue to expect quality fishing.

Lake-wide, walleye counts in DNR test nets averaged 8.9 walleye per net lift, which was similar to results from the past 5 years and was above the long-term average of 7.7 walleye per net lift.

"September gill nets showed above-average numbers of all sizes of walleye," said Doug Schultz, DNR area fisheries supervisor in Walker. "Fishing reports have been excellent all season, and this survey confirms that good walleye fishing is expected to continue through the winter and into next year."

Schultz added that the strong 2010 year class reached harvestable size this summer, which "had a lot to do with angling success." Additionally, 36 percent of walleye sampled were within the current slot limit and have provided anglers the opportunity to catch larger fish.

The DNR is considering relaxing the current 18- to 26-inch protected slot limit on Leech Lake to a 20- to 26-inch protected slot limit. If the proposal is carried forward, the relaxed slot limit would be effective for the 2014 fishing opener.

"The proposed change in the slot limit would allow anglers the opportunity to add 18 and 19-inch walleye to their bag," said Schultz. "These fish comprise about one-third of walleye currently protected with the existing 18- to 26-inch slot limit."

Schultz noted this regulatory review and potential relaxation of the slot limit was programmed into the current management plan. The management plan detailed that if walleye population objectives were met or exceeded and all metrics indicated the walleye population could sustain increased harvest opportunity, the DNR would consider relaxing the slot limit. Results of this year's survey indicate the timing of this review is appropriate.

Other game fish species targeted with test nets include yellow perch and northern pike. Yellow perch abundance declined for the sixth consecutive year, while northern pike abundance continues to remain stable. The primary species of nongame fish assessed with the test nets is cisco. Fall test netting indicated cisco continue to be present at moderate levels of abundance.

Water trees and perennials this fall

By Gary Wyatt
U of M Extension

Trees and other perennial plants are visibly stressed this fall primarily due to drought conditions from the past two or more years. Tree stress symptoms include abundant seed production, leaf scorch, early fall colors, leaf drop, limb die back and yellowing or browning of leaves/needles. Trees and shrubs, especially conifer trees and trees and shrubs planted in the last three years should be watered generously until the soil freezes. Mulching newly planted trees will help reduce winter root damage.

Young maples and thinned barked trees may benefit from some kind of sunscald protection to prevent the bark from cracking this winter and spring. This protection is usually in the form of a plastic tube or tree wrap (remove in spring). These practices can also help in reducing winter animal damage. Other fall management practices which will help reduce winter damage to trees and shrubs can be found at <http://z.umn.edu/winterdamage>

Protecting trees from rabbits, mice, voles and deer is a major concern in some landscapes during the winter. Mow or remove tall grass to reduce mice and vole damage. If the bark is removed or severely damaged around the tree, it will die. Protective physical barriers such as tree tubes, hardware cloth or fencing can be done when practical.

Odor, taste and visual repellents can be used to repel many wildlife species, but may have inconsistent effectiveness. Human hair, soaps, garlic oil, hot sauce and animal repellents can be applied to branches and foliage to discourage browsing. Weather, application frequency, animal population and feeding pressure affect the success of repellents. Some animals become desensitized to the repellent, so you may want to alternate repellents. A web resource that reviews prevention and control of wildlife damage can be found at <http://z.umn.edu/critters>

If you're unsure what is causing problems in your landscape, Extension has a great website to help homeowners diagnose tree, shrub and plant problems or identifying a weed or insect. This site also has links to the UM Plant Disease Clinic and Soil Testing Lab. <http://z.umn.edu/diagnose>

Fall is also a good time to plant trees (water till the soil freezes). Recommended trees for all regions of Minnesota can be found at <http://z.umn.edu/rectrees> The best time to prune trees is during the dormant season from January to March. Flowering shrubs can be pruned in the summer after flowering.
