Arli-Dazzle festivities are only 2 months away

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The Arli-Dazzle festivities are a little over two months away.

The daylong celebration will begin with Santa Day at the Arlington Community Center.

The Bethlehem Express will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in the afternoon.

A Quilt Show hosted by the Arlington Public Library will display beautiful works of art from many talented quilters.

The annual Dash Through The Snow 5K run and walk will start and end on Main Street in the afternoon.

The Arlington Greys Base Ball Club will host the Mankato Baltics in the annual snowball game on the playground at the Sibley East Public School at 2:30 p.m.

The Arlington Fire Department will host its annual Black Top Fishing Derby in the City Parking Lot.

There will also be free horse and wagon rides in and around the community.

Santa's reindeer and a real team of sled dogs will also be present on Main Street in the late afternoon.

The Shell's Hobo Christmas Quartet and Sibley East Carolers will merrily fill Main Street with the sounds of Christmas in the late afternoon.

An array of food vendors will also be available on Main Street.

The festivities will be capped by the annual Arli-Dazzle Parade at 5:30 p.m.

"Yes, it is true, we are all Minnesotans and we do tend to be Minnesota Nice and not brag, but Arli-Dazzle is probably the largest lighted Christmas parade in Minnesota," said Arli-Dazzle Committee Chairperson Kim Schneider. "We are proud and we don't mind being loud about it."

To register a parade unit or to sponsor an event, please call Kim Schneider at 507-964-2809.

The deadline to register a parade unit is Friday, Nov. 29.

Arlington City Council receives update on local projects

By Kurt Menk
Editor

Sibley County Public Works Director Tim Becker recently provided the Arlington City Council with a construction update on local projects.

The County Road 166 bridge is nearly complete, according to Becker. The only item remaining is the installation of the guardrails.

The road construction for County Road 166 began on Thursday, Sept. 8, Becker said.

Beginning next week, the contractor will continue work on the sidewalk improvement project throughout town, according to Becker. The Prairie Line Trail will be rough graded in along the south side of County Road 166 heading east to the Arlington Sportsmen's Park.

According to Becker, the abutments for the 387th Avenue bridge and pedestrian bridge by the compost site are in place.

The Prairie Line Trail pedestrian bridge at the Arlington Sportsmen's Park will undergo construction in a couple of weeks, Becker said. A pedestrian bridge takes about eight to 10 weeks for construction.

The anticipated completion date for the four bridges and road project is November of 2014, according to Becker.

In the meantime, the Parks Committee and city staff continue to work and improve the baseball/softball field at the Arlington Sportsmen's Park, according to Arlington City Administrator Liza Donabauer. The City of Arlington is able to make these improvements thanks to recent grant dollars from the Minnesota Valley Electric Trust/Operational Round Up and the Twins Fields for Kids Grant. Improvements to the park shelter at the Arlington Sportsmen's Park are also budgeted for this year.

A dedication ceremony to name the baseball/softball field in memory of Dan "Buck" Thomes will be held on Sunday afternoon, Oct. 19.

Homecoming Parade is Friday afternoon

The Sibley East Homecoming Week is running Monday, Sept. 29 through Friday, Oct. 3.

The pepfest and coronation will be held in the large gym at the Sibley East Senior High School in Arlington and start at 12:40 p.m. Friday, Oct. 3.

The queen candidates are Kelli Martens, Ashley Mercier, Paige Nelson, Shelby Voight and Breann Walsh.

The king candidates are Austin Brockhoff, Lukas Bullert, Austin Kube, Jordan Petzel and Zac Weber.

The parade will follow the pepfest and coronation in Arlington at 2:05 p.m. The parade route will remain the same as in years past.

PeopleService plans to flush hydrants in City of Arlington

PeopleService staff plan to flush hydrants within the City of Arlington from the first week of October until the task is completed, according to the City of Arlington newsletter.

Residents and businesses may experience low water pressure and/or discolored water and cloudiness during the flushing process. The water is safe to drink and should clear up in a few days. Running tap water for a short time should alleviate the problem.

City of Arlington reminds residents of burning leaves

With the fall season already here, ideas for getting rid of leaves begin to surface. Residents in the City of Arlington should remember that the burning of leaves within the city limits is prohibited, according to the City of Arlington newsletter.

Fires are only permitted within city limits as long as they are for recreational purpose. Recreational purposes shall include only the cooking of food or the providing of heat and light for outdoor social gatherings. Only propane, charcoal bricks, or wood products may be used to fuel outdoor fires and shall be contained in an outdoor fire place, barbecue equipment, or a concrete-lined fire pit, sufficient to provide limitation to the spread of the fire.

Sibley County to hold open house to discuss question on the ballot

The Sibley County Board of Commissioners will hold an open house to discuss the question on the November 4, 2014 general election ballot in regards to if the Sibley County Auditor/Treasurer and Recorder positions should be made appointed.

Information will be available at the open house.

The open house will be held at the Sibley County Service Center, 111 Eighth Street, Gaylord from 6:30 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 14.

The County Commissioners, during a regular meeting in August, unanimously adopted a resolution to place the question on the ballot.

The County Commissioners, about one year ago, adopted a resolution to combine the auditor and treasurer positions.

County Commissioners Joy Cohrs, Jim Nytes, Harold Pettis, Bill Pinske and Jim Swanson voted in favor of both resolutions.

Informational meeting to be held in Green Isle on Oct. 8

By Kurt Menk
Editor

Informational meetings for the proposed $43.045 million Sibley East bond referendum have been set.

The first meeting will be held at the Green Isle Community Room at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 8.

The second meeting will be held in the large gym at the Arlington campus at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15.

The third meeting will be held in the large gym at the Gaylord campus at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 22.

Voters will vote on the proposed bond referendum during the General Election on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

The question on the ballot shall be, "Shall the school board of Independent School District No. 2310 (Sibley East Public Schools) be authorized to issue general obligation school building bonds in an amount not to exceed $43,045,000 to provide funds for the acquisition and betterment of school sites and facilities, including the construction and equipping of a new elementary school facility in Gaylord; the sale or demolition of the existing school facility in Gaylord; and the renovation, repair, remodeling, equipping and construction of additions and improvements to the existing school site and facility in Arlington to convert that facility into a high school/middle school facility?"

The proposed new elementary school, depending on a land swap between the Sibley East Public Schools and City of Gaylord, would be constructed on city-owned property located east of the stormwater pond in Gaylord between Highways 19 and 5, Lincoln Avenue East and County Road 21.

The plan for the proposed high school/middle school in Arlington would include a new three-station gymnasium on the north end of the building. The current big gymnasium would be renovated into an auditorium. The 1936 portion of the building would be demolished and replaced with a commons area, classrooms and kitchen. In addition, the temporary classrooms would be removed. Overall, the project in Arlington would be about half new and half renovation.

The new PreK-5 elementary building in Gaylord would be completed by the summer of 2016.

The new additions and remodeling to the grades 6-12 building in Arlington would be completed by the summer of 2017.

Evidence at the scene indicated that the vehicle was blue in color. The vehicle likely received damage to its front and side. The vehicle is also missing a side mirror.

The total value of the damage is estimated at approximately $450, the report said.

The Sibley County Sheriff's Department is seeking information in regard to this damage including the driver's identity and the damaged vehicle. People who have information are encouraged to contact the sheriff's department at 1-888-880-4567.

Members of the Arlington Garden Club will leave the City Parking Lot to go to the Minnesota Landscape Arboretum at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday, Oct. 7.

To reserve a spot, call Larry Gieseke at 507-964-5773. New members are always welcome.

Candidate forum is set

The Arlington Area Chamber of Commerce will host a Meet The Candidates event at the Arlington Community Center at 7 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 16.

The mayoral candidates include Bruce Anderson and Rich Nagel.

The City Council candidates include Michelle Batchner, Tom Hatlestad and Jim Heiland.

The public is invited to attend this event.

Area highways to be impacted

Motorists on Highway 99 east of St. Peter are advised that they will encounter a detour as crews work to make improvements to culverts.

Highway 99 will be closed between Le Sueur County Road 21 and the Ottawa Road for culvert work and ravine restoration. Traffic will be detoured to County Road 21, Highway 22 and Highway 169 for two to three weeks.

Later in October, Highway 22 will be closed on the west side of Norseland. Traffic will be detoured to Nicollet County Road 15, Highway 111 and Highway 22 for about one week.

This project was initially announced to begin as early as Sept. 24, but recently experienced some delays.

The project will help keep the culverts in proper working order and extend the life of the road.

MnDOT urges motorists to always drive with caution, and reminds them to slow down in the work zone and never enter a roadway that has been blocked with barriers or cones.

Farming in the road right-of-way (ROW)

The Board of Supervisors has observed some instances where tillage is being done in the ROW. The ROW extends two rods (33 feet) either side of the center of the road and exists in order that the roads may be properly maintained for the benefit of all who use them. Roadside mowing in the ROW is permitted, for the purpose of weed control or making hay, but tillage or crop production is not permitted (M.S.160.2715) as it may adversely affect road structure and maintenance. Anyone who damages or alters the ROW will be held responsible for all costs of restoration.

The town board has no desire, or intention, to go around checking every field with a tape measure, and appreciated the generally good farming practices of our agricultural producers. However, those places where excessive encroachment has occurred will need to be dealt with. The township may be marking or seeding some area's going into this fall and next spring and requires that these be left undisturbed. Your full cooperation is anticipated and appreciated.

Please feel free to contact any members of the board with question or attend the regular town meeting held the last Wednesday of each month at 7:30 p.m.

Sincerely,
Jessenland Township Board

Because of vandalism, bathrooms in the green shelter at the Gaylord City Park are closed until further notice, according to an article in the Gaylord Hub.

On Thursday evening, Sept. 18, the green shelter was vandalized again. According to Gaylord City Administrator Kevin McCann, this time toilets were clogged, and the toilet paper dispenser was ripped down. Garbage was also dumped out.

DNR urges motorists to be alert for deer this fall

The Minnesota Department of Natural Resources urges motorists to be especially alert this autumn to avoid vehicle/deer accidents.

"Fall is an extremely active time for wildlife, especially deer," said Col. Ken Soring, DNR enforcement director. "Drivers need to remain alert and drive with particular caution this time of year."

In the fall, deer population numbers are at a peak. Consequently, the potential for drivers to encounter them on the roadways is greatly increased. In addition, autumn is the breeding season for white-tailed deer and reproductive urges cause the animals to become increasingly mobile throughout October and November.

"When you see deer along the roadside, reduce your speed and be wary of any sudden movement," said Sor-

ing. "If a deer crosses the road, others may follow in its path."

While deer may be seen crossing roadways at any time of day, they are most active at dawn and dusk. These are the same hours most people are traveling to and from work. Drivers can avoid hitting deer by slowing down during these hours and being particularly alert in areas where deer typically cross.

A 20-year-old Henderson man was killed in a one-vehicle rollover accident on Highway 19 west of Henderson at 6:41 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 27, according to the Minnesota State Patrol.

A 1999 Dodge was east-bound on Highway 19 when the vehicle went into the ditch and rolled multiple times, according to the report. Brendan L. Kroehler, 20, Henderson, was listed as deceased, the report said. Joshua J. Krueger, 20, Henderson, suffered non-life threatening injuries, according to the report.

It is unknown who was driving the vehicle, the report said.

The Henderson Fire Department and Le Sueur Ambulance assisted at the scene.

Highways 5, 19 and 22 in Gaylord detours will be removed on Oct. 6

The first year of a major reconstruction on Highways 5, 19 and 22 in Gaylord is wrapping up and the detours are expected to be removed late on Monday, Oct. 6, weather permitting, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

Work completed this year included reconstruction of a section of Highway 19 and 22 extending from Sibley Avenue to Gaylord's north city limits. Utilities have been updated, sidewalks are accessible to disabled and a new smoother and safer roadway is in place.

In 2015 the project centers on the business section including Highway 5 and Highway 22 to the south. In addition to utilities, sidewalks and roadway, the project includes new lighting, benches, bike racks and planters.

Work on the project includes grading, paving, installing utilities, lighting, landscaping, replacing sidewalk and improving pedestrian accessibility on Highways 5, 19 and 22 in the city of Gaylord.

Detour maps, background information and weekly updates will continue to be posted on Gaylord's city website at exploreGaylord.org/.

Wm. Mueller & Sons of Hamburg has been awarded the contract for $10,167,451.

Vote on Sibley East building bond referendum is only one month away

Our View: Issue has started to stir up letters to the editor

The proposed Sibley East building bond referendum has started to prompt readers from both sides of the issue to write letters to the editor in this week's edition of the Arlington Enterprise. Additional letters are sure to follow before the General Election on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

The goal of this newspaper is to give everyone on both sides of the issue an opportunity to comment on the proposed Sibley East building bond referendum.

The Arlington Enterprise, with this thought in mind, will enforce its policy of a maximum of 500 words for letters to the editor.

While some newspapers limit a letter to 100 to 300 words, this newspaper has found that too restrictive. The Arlington Enterprise does not want to discourage letters, but believes writers can make their points on the proposed Sibley East building bond referendum and any other topic in less than 500 words.

Study after study indicates that people are more likely to read shorter, more precise letters to the editor in their newspapers anyway. Longer letters or columns tend to be skipped over if time is not available.

The deadline for letters to the editor will remain at 4 p.m. every Tuesday. Writers must sign their letter and provide contact information.

Letters For The Final Week

The Arlington Enterprise would like to remind its readers about letters to the editor the week prior to the General Election on Nov. 4.

This newspaper, during the final week, will not publish any letters that bring up new ideas on the proposed Sibley East building bond referendum. This newspaper will only print letters that respond to specific statements that have already been made in previous letters or opinion columns.

People who wish to write a letter must state the name of the writer, the date of publication that the letter or opinion column appeared and specifically point out the statement and which paragraph it appeared.

A man gets a job with the county painting lines down the center of the highway. The supervisor tells him he is expected to paint two miles of highway a day, and the man goes to work immediately.

The first day he paints four miles. "Great," the supervisor thinks. The next day the man paints two miles, but the supervisor thinks, "Well, that's good enough." The third day the man paints one mile.

"What's the problem?" his boss asks. "An injury? Some reason you keep painting less and less highway?"

The man replies, "Well, I keep getting farther and farther from the bucket."

A businessman, who flew frequently for his job, called the airlines one day.

"I have three suitcases," said the businessman. "Can I send one suitcase to Los Angeles, one to Cleveland and another to New York?"

"I'm sorry, sir," explained the airlines employee. "You did it yesterday."

One business person asked another, "Is your advertising getting results?"

"It sure is," replied the colleague. "Last week we advertised for a night watchman. The next night we were robbed."

Life is a lot like a high school algebra class. Every time you get one problem solved, the teacher is waiting to give you another.

The doctor was pleased with his patient's progress. "You're coughing much more easily this morning," the doctor said.

"Well, I ought to be," replied the patient. "I've been practicing all night."

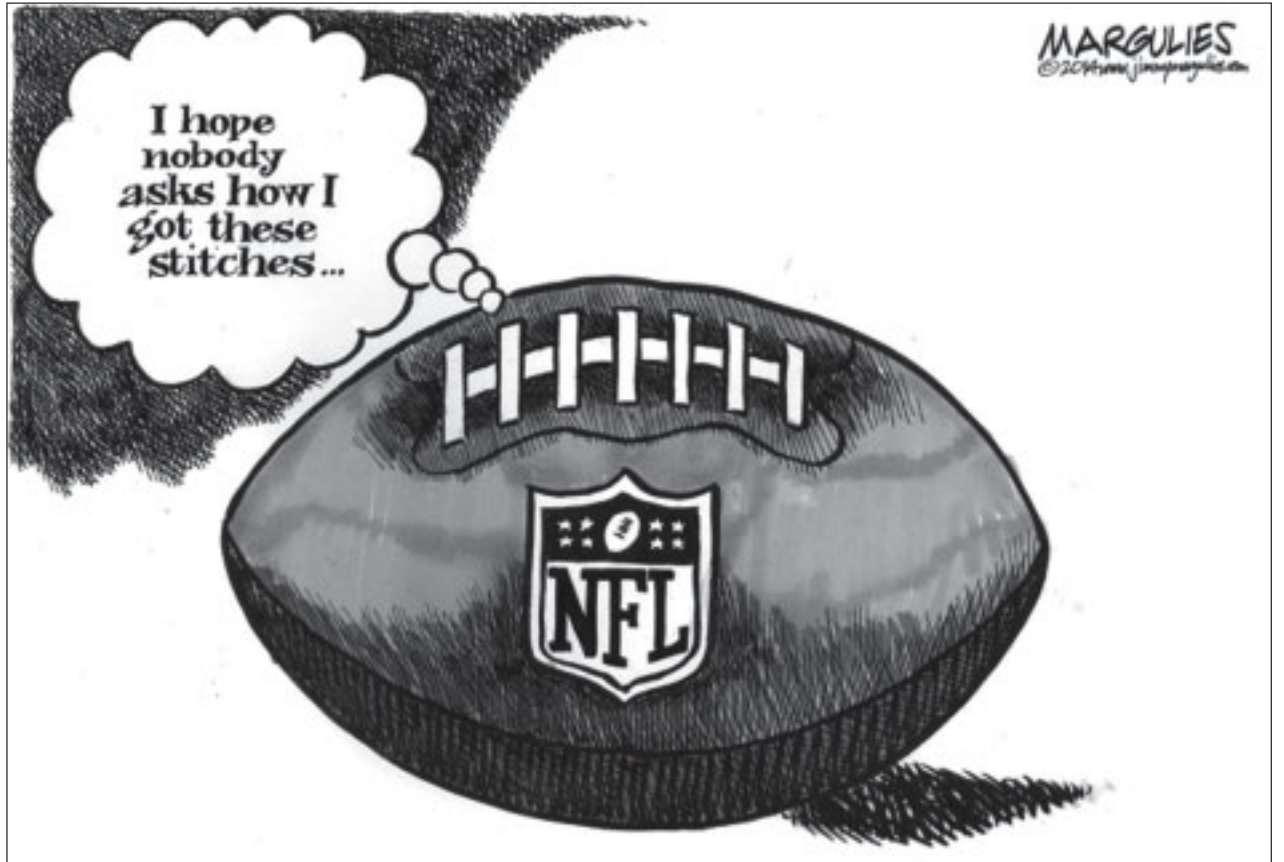

An Army cook liked to brag about being in the service. One morning after he cooked up a large order of scrambled eggs for new recruits, he wrote a letter to his girlfriend, "My darling, for two hours, shells have been bursting all around me."

At the last Senate investigation session, a man who was to be questioned took his oath and sat down.

"Do you have a lawyer," the chairman inquired.

"No, sir," replied the man. "I've decided to tell the truth."

Superintendent's Note Pad

SE building bond referendum weekly question

Editor's Note: Sibley East Superintendent Jim Amsden will use his Superintendent's Note Pad column to answer one to two commonly asked questions each week about the proposed building bond referendum until voters go to the polls on Tuesday, Nov. 4.

Week Six: What are the Benefits of Quality Schools to Students and District Residents?

Over the last month, I have focused on how the Facilities Task Force reached the recommendation to build a new PreK-5 facility in Gaylord and add new additions and remodel the Arlington site to accommodate grades 6-12. This week I would like to focus on the immediate benefit to students and the long term benefits to all district residents.

At the PreK level, successful early childhood programs have proven to increase student achievement and increase social and emotional functioning, all while improving verbal, intellectual, and physical development. Sibley East has programming preparing students for kindergarten that is rated 4 out of 4 stars by Minnesota's Parent Aware rating system. Unfortunately, due to the lack of programming space, we are turning families away from this opportunity because we do not have the physical space to add sections. Additional programs can be developed within these new spaces to provide after-school care and learning opportunities that enhance and strengthen our current Sibley East ECFE and Community Education programs.

Sibley East K-12 students and their families will see immediate benefits from new and updated facilities. The primary benefits students will encounter are learning in spaces that (1) are sized to current Minnesota Department of Education Guidelines, (2) offer flexible learning environments, and (3) have improved air handling systems that maintain consistent temperatures while reducing moisture and carbon dioxide levels within the classroom. Additionally, necessary spaces are added for students to work with learning specialists in settings that allow for focused teaching and learning through the elimination of physical and environmental disruptions. Science labs, technical education spaces, and fine arts spaces are improved to increase educational opportunities in national and state initiatives such as STEAM (science, technology, engineering, arts, and math). A recent study by the University of Salford (Manchester, UK) suggests that classroom environment can affect a child's academic progress over a year by as much as 25%.

For district residents who do not have children or grandchildren in school, it is important to understand that research shows that a strong school system is vital in maintaining our communities. In today's age, with increased mobility and school choice (open enrollment), people will consider schools very carefully when considering where to live and work. In a survey conducted by the National Association of Realtors (2002), the quality of public schools, along with the safety of the neighborhoods, were the two most important factors considered in where people chose to live. Having a school system with strong academic programming and facilities that are up to date and well maintained helps attract potential business and resident development. This in turn maintains or increases the community population base that creates demand for the products and services produced/sold by our local businesses. Thomas Lyson's study in the Journal of Research in Rural Education, "What Does a School Mean to a Community?" (2002) concludes that rural towns with local public schools are often more economically advanced. The evidence suggests that the quality of schools influences business site selection and where people who work in those businesses choose to live.

Letters To The Editor

I support education, but we cannot afford $43 million

To The Editor,

I support education. I support Sibley East. But— we cannot afford to borrow $43 million.

I have served on three Sibley East Facilities committees (1997, 2000, 2011). Before the $40 million bond referendum in 2011, I wrote several letters to the editor. My financial analysis concluded that taxpayers could not afford $40 million. Two-thirds of the votes said "NO to $40 million" (1,919 to 896). No one has proven my 2011 analysis, calculations, and conclusions to be wrong.

Sibley East's existing facilities are older and urgently need deferred maintenance, but what has changed financially since 2011?

The facts supporting my 2011 conclusion remain valid. $40 million was unaffordable in 2011. $43 million is unaffordable in 2014.

Sibley East states that it will only cost $116 per year for a homeowner in an $80,000 house to pay for the $43 million facility.

This is an incomplete argument and a misleading statement.

The League of Minnesota Cities website provides a tool to compare the total property taxes (county, city, and school district) of 853 cities in Minnesota. I used this tool to compare the 2014 total property tax burden on $80,000 homeowners in Arlington, Gaylord, and Green Isle.

If the proposed bond issue passes, Green Isle homeowners will become one of the 15 most heavily taxed cities in the state. Arlington homeowners will move into the top 25% of taxpayers.

Gaylord homeowners will move to one of the 10 highest taxed communities in Minnesota. Why? Because the City of Gaylord has already issued $2.73 million in debt in 2014 and will likely issue over $4 million in debt to fund MNDOT's 2015 downtown street improvements and a 2016 new water tower.

With this new city and school district debt, a Gaylord homeowner in an $80,000 house could see their 2014 property taxes increase from $1,077 to between $1,500 and $1,700 by 2017.

We must invest significant taxpayer dollars to upgrade Sibley East's facilities. I support that upgrade. But there is a less expensive solution and a more affordable option for renovating school buildings. I'll share my thoughts in a future letter. In the meantime, consider these questions.

What can the taxpayers afford? Is there a less expensive way to solve this problem?

Please vote AGAINST the November 4 referendum, but be prepared to vote FOR a smaller, more realistic future referendum. We need to do something, but $43 million is not affordable.

Letters To The Editor

Vote no on SE school bond referendum

To The Editor,

When will our school administrators and school board quit trying to wreak financial ruin on Sibley East taxpayers?

They must realize that our district is no longer made up of 160-acre farms with four to six kids, but new modern corporate farms with one or two kids?

When will they open their eyes and acknowledge that the birth rate has been declining since 2008 because of the economy?

The district is barely stable or even in a possible decline. This shows in the empty businesses and houses in our district.

You might have seen an advertisement for www.k-12.org for home schooling on your computer. MacPhail School of Music teaches music over the computer all over the state. School districts and buildings could be a thing of the past in the very near future.

Now if our schools are as bad physically that we need one, how is it so? Is it because our school board has not spent the monies needed for upkeep in the past.

Why were we spending hundreds of thousands for sports facilities but very little on school buildings and roofs?

Now that the district properties are beyond repairs then maybe we should dissolve Sibley East as did McLeod West.

Remember a few years back, a new modern bus garage was the answer to our problems. Rumors ran wild on that issue. A new garage in Gaylord. Gaylord would leave Sibley East and join G-F-W. Will this happen if we build a new elementary school in Gaylord?" What is to prevent this from happening?

Remodeling the old school building would force the taxpayers to pick up the additional costs if the bond referendum passes.

I have recently heard another rumor regarding deferring the taxes on the new building to the heirs after the property is sold upon the death of the owner. Is this a good idea? It's very possible they don't even live in the district. This could be very costly.

So in closing, on Nov. 4, I urge my fellow voters to vote no on this $43 million question.

Lawrence I. Crawford

Resident impressed with renovated school plans

To The Editor,

Even if I am a grandma and a senior citizen, I was concerned about the remodeling and renovation of our school coming up on the referendum in November. I was especially concerned about the parking problem all of us around the school have put up with for many years. I was curious what solution, if any, was to be done to deal with that. So I wrote a letter to Jim Amsden, our superintendent, about my concern. The day he got my letter he called and said he would like to come over and show me the layout and plans for parking and the renovated building. When he showed me the plan, I was impressed. Especially that there would be 139 parking spaces at the north end of school, the area that is now the playground. Grades 6-12 don't need a recess area. The school entrance will also be on the north end where the new gym will be built.

Parking spaces will also be added to the south side of the school where some of the 1937 school building will be removed. This will make it easier for grandparents and handicapped to attend programs, rather than having to walk blocks to get to school for events in the auditorium when there is no place close to school to park.

I was impressed, my questions were answered, and what a relief it would be to have the parking problem resolved.

So I just want to say to you, if you have any questions about the plans for the school, call our superintendent or attend meetings coming up in October and get details, form your own opinion about what is planned. The decision is yours. Be informed about what is going on and get out there and vote.

Mildred B. 'Milly' Felmlee, 80, Le Sueur

Mildred B. (Milly) Felmlee, age 80, of Le Sueur, died at Abbott-Northwestern Hospital in Minneapolis surrounded by her family on Saturday, Sept. 27.

Funeral services were held at Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church in LeSueur at 11 a.m. Wednesday, Oct. 1.

Visitation was held from 9 a.m. to the time of the service on Wednesday, Oct. 1.

Interment was in the Mound Cemetery in Le Sueur.

She graduated from the Arlington High School in 1952 and worked in Minneapolis for several years. She married Dwaine Felmlee at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church in Arlington on Sept. 3, 1955. They made their home in St. Peter for several years and then moved to Le Sueur. She worked for the Green Giant Company for many years in the promotion and mailing division. Milly was an avid bowler and horseshoe player. She enjoyed playing cards, snowmobiling, special times with family and grandchildren and an occasional trip to the casino.

Why do laws regulate the placement of objects in the highway right of way?

Objects along roadways pose hazards for drivers and maintenance crews, according to the Minnesota Department of Transportation. Minnesota Statutes, section 160.2715 says in part that it is unlawful to paint, print, place, or affix any object within the limits of any state highway.

Specific laws for advertising, other signs

The Minnesota Outdoor Advertising Control Act (Minnesota Statutes, section 173.15) prohibits advertising devices:

- on private land without the consent of the owner or occupant;
- on public utility poles;

- on trees or shrubs; and
- by painting or drawing on rocks or natural features.

The state law that prohibits the placement of signs in the highway right of way applies to all state, county, city and township roads and highways.

The Federal Highway Administration office in Minnesota monitors Minnesota's compliance with federal highway beautification laws. State transportation employees are responsible for administering these laws on state highways and must remove signs that violate the laws. County, city, and township employees administer these laws on their roads.

Can I get my sign back?

Illegal signs will be removed. MnDOT is responsible for state highways, and county, city, and township employees are responsible for their roads. Local municipalities also have their own regulations, which may differ from city to city and county to county. Contact your local MnDOT office for help when signs are being placed and specific highway right of way cannot be clearly identified. When improperly placed signs are removed by department employees, every effort will be made to temporarily store the sign and to notify the owner where the signs can be retrieved.

Statement from Gruenhagen on MNsure rate release

State Representative Glenn Gruenhagen, R-Glencoe, issued the following statement following the release of the health insurance premium rates for the 2014-2015 open enrollment period.

The Department of Commerce announced Wednesday that rates would increase for a majority of consumers on MNsure in all parts of the state, many by double-digit percentages. The lowest-cost option for many men and women using Minnesota's Obamacare exchange is set to increase by more than 20 percent next year alone.

"Minnesota families are paying the price for the failed leadership of Governor Dayton and Democrats in bringing Obamacare to Minnesota," Gruenhagen said. "Instead of the cost savings that were promised by the creators of MNsure, families are paying more, have fewer choices, and are stuck with the consequences. Between spending $160 million on a website that still doesn't work, families losing plans they liked, and taxpayer-funded bonuses for MNsure executives, it's clear Minnesotans deserve better than the broken promises sold to them by Democrats."

Since the implementation of Obamacare began last year, insurance premium costs are rising faster than ever. According to the Commonwealth Fund, individual market insurance premiums from 2003-2010 rose a total of 35 percent in Minnesota. In the first full year of Obamacare in Minnesota, the same rates rose 47 percent for Minnesotans according to the Manhattan Institute. For 2014-2015, one of the largest insurers remaining on MNsure is seeing a 17 percent average increase for 2015, meaning higher costs for thousands of Minnesotans.

The following is a list of results from that event, according to Arlington Raceway owners Bob and Sue Allen.

Mike Christensen, Hutchinson, took the lead and win from Matt Olson, Morton, in the Eckblad Trucking IMCA Hobby feature. Olson led the first five laps, but Christensen who started behind Olson was able to challenge him by the second lap and maintain the lead to win the race. Rod Manthey, Norwood, took third. Kevin Latour, Le Sueur, won his first track championship in this class.

Alan Lahr, Nicollet, started the Coors Light IMCA Sport Compact feature in the lead, but sustained damage and headed to the pit area. Kyren Porter, Madison Lake, then took over the lead, but a restart occurred and Eric Ladner, Arlington, got by Porter. She held on for second and Brock St. John, Arlington, took third place. Nate Coopman won the track championship.

Dan Mackenthun, Hamburg, did double duty as he won the Liberty Station Outlaw feature ahead of Chris Plamann, Hutchinson. Kevin Latour, Le Sueur, led the first five laps until Mackenthun joined him in the front and slid by him to take the lead and win. Plamann took second while Kyle Roepke, Arlington, placed third. Liberty Station also sponsored a hardcharger award, Bill Braunworth, Victoria, won the award. Brian Loscheider picked up an extra $50 for his 11th place finish. Mori Oestreich, Henderson, won the track championship.

The Unhinged Pizza IMCA Sport Modified feature was cut short due to time. John (Fuzzy) Albrecht, Glencoe, led the entire race and picked up his first feature of the year. Tim Bergerson, Mankato, battled with Jeremy Brown, Elko, for second place and got by him with one lap to go, but had to settle for second. Brown took third while Travis Schurmann, Howard Lake, took fourth place. Matt Looft, Swea City, Iowa, won the track championship.

Clint Benson, Papilion, Neb., made the trip worth his while once again as he won the 95.7 IMCA Sprint feature. There were three different leaders with Dustin Sargent, Cleveland, led the first four laps and then Brett Allen, Gaylord, took over for the next four laps. Benson worked through the field and by the ninth lap he had the lead. Mike Stien, Ceylon, got around Allen in the fourth turn and took second, but was not able to catch Benson. Stien took second and Brandon Allen, St. Peter, got by Brett Allen for third place. Mike Stien won the track championship.

Dan Mackenthun won the track championship in the B&B Racing Chassis IMCA Stock car class and took home the trophy for the feature race. There was quite a race between the cars of Jeff McCollum, Mankato, and Matt Schauer, Arlington, for the lead, but Mackenthun came out the victor. Schauer took second and McCollum took third.

There was only two points difference going into the MN 93 IMCA Modified feature for the night between Chad Porter, Madison Lake, and Jerry Wren, Howard Lake, making for an exciting race. Porter led the race for the first 16 laps of the 20-lap race. On lap 17 he fell off the pace as his drive shaft broke sending him into the pit area. That gave the lead to Dan Menk, Franklin, with Trent Loverude, New Ulm, on his tail. Menk won the race and Loverude was able to hold off Curt Lund, Redwood Falls, and took second. Lund took third while Wren taking 4th and winning the track championship.

Former local woman publishes book

Former Arlington resident Rev. Evelyn Dahlke has published her second book, Angel Wings: Poems of Faith from the Journey. This book contains poetry written over the course of the past 20 years -- through the darkness of depression, divorce, seminary study, congregational ministry, and beyond. Poems are both rhyming and free-form and consist of prayers, meditations, and observations. This book closely follows part of the events of her first book, Butterfly Song, a memoir, but also moves beyond it to the present time. Rev. Dahlke grew up in rural Le Sueur and graduated from the Arlington-Green Isle High School. She obtained her Bachelor of Arts Degree from the University of Minnesota, Morris, and her Master of Divinity Degree from Luther Seminary, St. Paul. Prior to attending seminary, she worked as a teacher/program coordinator at the Sibley County Developmental Achievement Center in Arlington. After seminary she served Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, St. Paul; Emanuel Lutheran Church and Northeast Minneapolis; and Faith Lutheran Church, Wabasha. She currently does pastoral/spiritual care and counseling along with some worship leadership and preaching as well as continues to write and help with her grandchildren.

Blessings

"Blessed are you when others revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven, for so they persecuted the prophets who were before you."

The 50th annual Sibley County Fair, which came to a close last week Wednesday, surpassed any fair or celebration ever held at Arlington in all of its history. It was not only the biggest in point of attendance, exhibits and other things which constitute a big fair, but the entertainment met with the whole hearted approval of every visitor. An airplane stunt show thrilled the crowd on several occasions. The ball games were the best ever staged at our fair. No one could find fault with the horse races. Wednesday was home coming day in honor of the soldier boys who fought in the world war. The bowery provided a wonderful attraction for the young people and the New Germany orchestra furnished the music.

The Arlington Greys played three games of baseball during the past week, winning two and losing one.

School news: Piping and fixtures have been put into the domestic science room to have hot and cold water in the sink. Arlington took first place in the fair school exhibits. On October 10th the High School and Grades will give a carnival.

A business deal was consummated this week through which Ed Gerber disposed of the restaurant business in the Burke building to Mr. R. W. Roth of Madison, Minn. The latter took immediate possession.

According to information given us by Co. Commissioner Ed. Wolff, the "missing link" to connect the so called Jessenland road with T. H. No. 5 across the Schwirtz farm will be built this fall. The job will be done by the Boelter grading outfit.

John Joyce of Jessenland, brother of Mrs. M. I. Madden of this place, left last week for Belgium, where he will complete his education for the priesthood. He was one of the few young men chosen each year to study abroad.

Two of Arlington's most progressive businessmen will see their dreams come true next Friday, October 2. Leonard and Norbert Brau will open their spanking new automotive center on the corner of Main and Highway Five. This is truly one of the finest steps taken by Arlington businessmen to improve their service to customers who shop this community in quite some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm Lange of Green Isle will celebrate their 60th wedding anniversary at the Plato Community Hall Sunday, October 4 with an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

Arlington's newest organization for young men in the community is also the fastest growing club in town. The Apollos Car Club organized about six months ago with six boys who decided it would be a nice thing to have a car club that specializes in one thing, youths and cars. During this time the membership has swollen to 13 and more prospects are being considered.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

October 5-11

ESTABLISH A HOME FIRE SAFETY PLAN

Keeping family members safe from fire involves establishing a fire safety plan.

People rely on fire and smoke detectors to help keep them safe in their homes. Though fire and smoke alarms are effective, a firm fire safety plan that will keep everyone calm should a fire occur could make the difference between life and death.

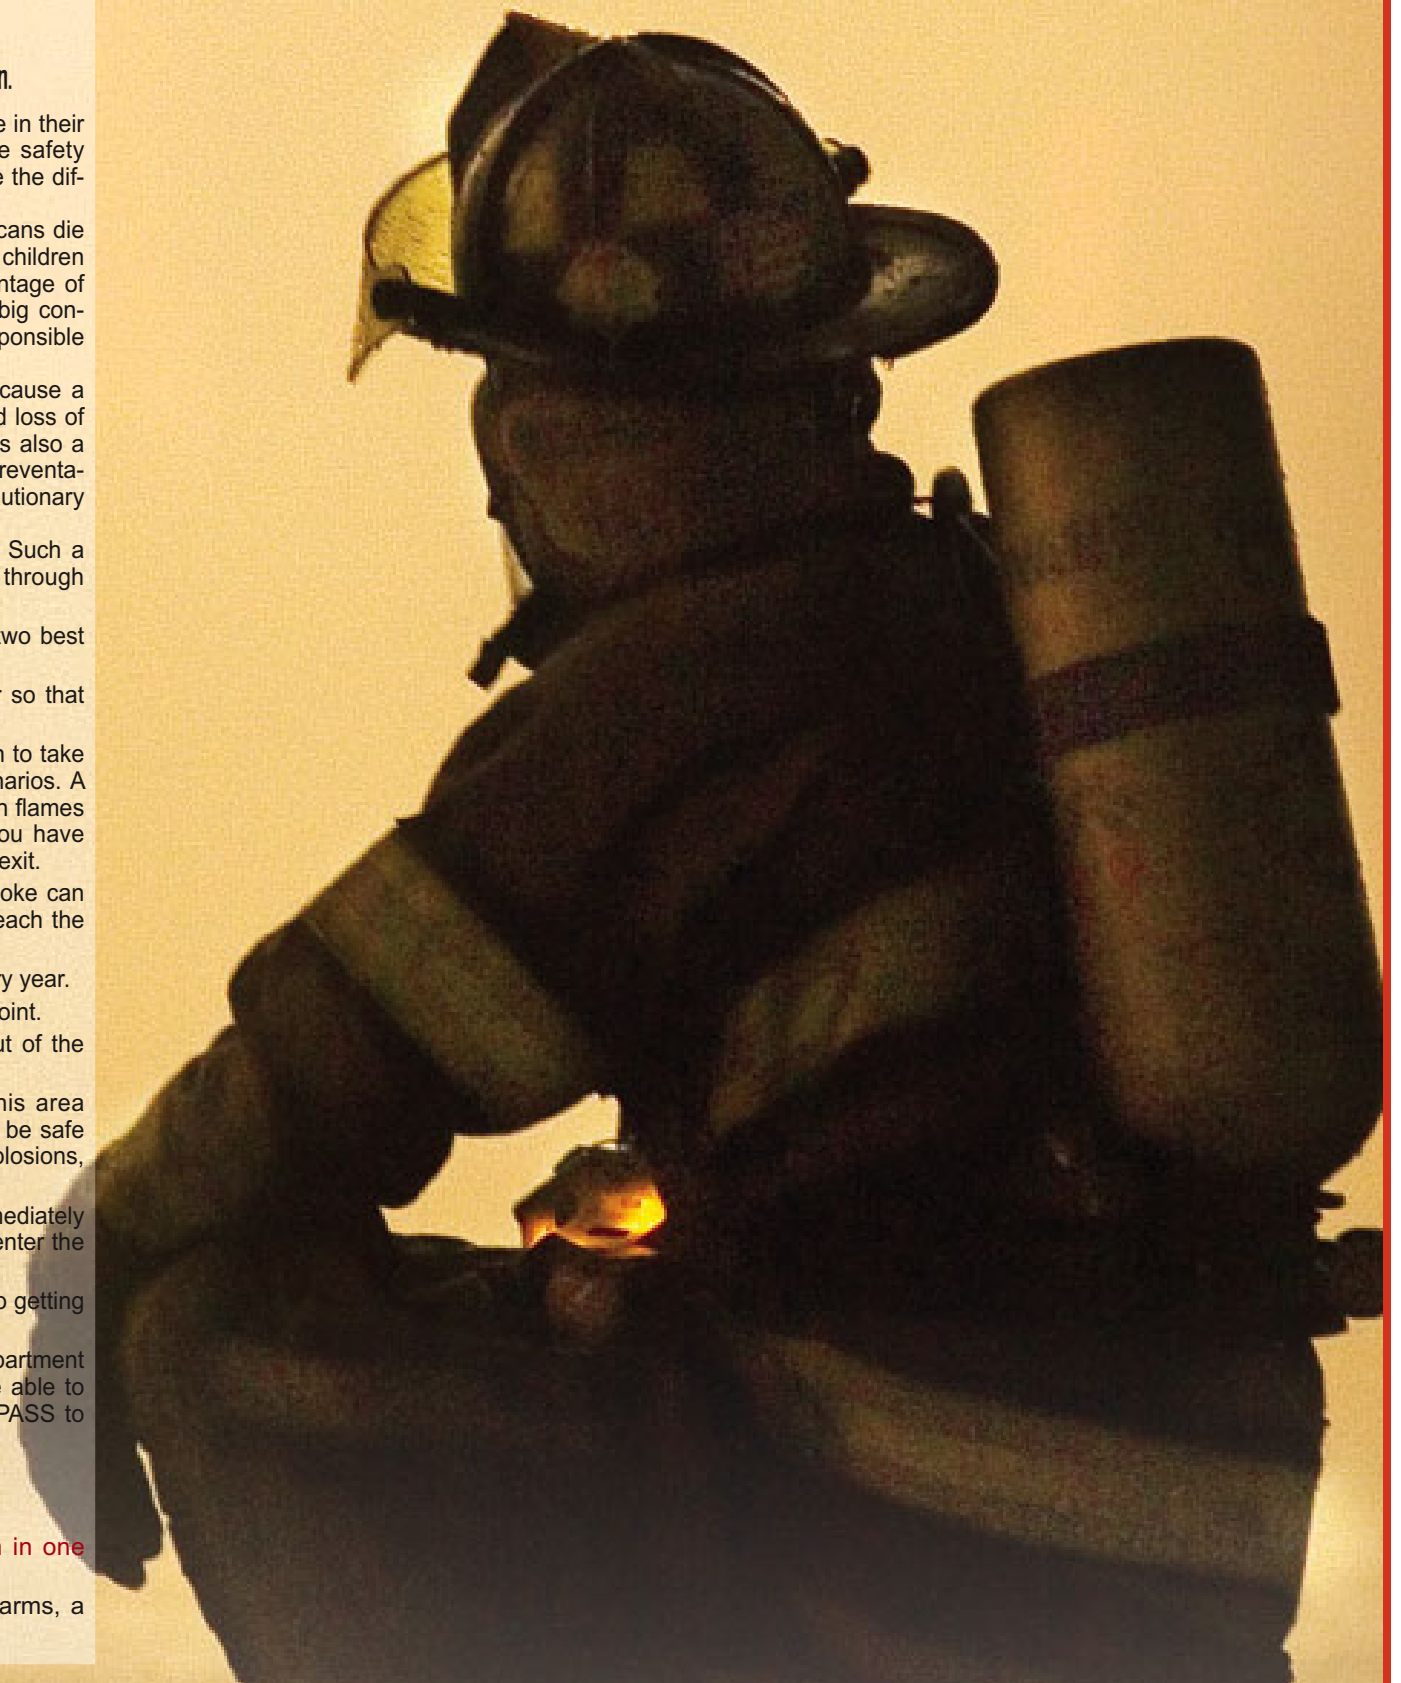

The U.S. Fire Administration says that more than 3,500 Americans die each year in fires, while roughly 18,300 more men, women and children are injured each year. Cooking accounts for the greatest percentage of residential fires, followed by arson. Dryer vent fires are also a big concern. FEMA says that smoke, rather than the fire's flames, is responsible for 75 percent of all deaths by fire.

In addition to physical injury and material damage, fires can cause a host of problems. Psychological distress, monetary damages and loss of pets may come with fires. Loss of irreplaceable personal items is also a concern. Although fires can be devastating, they're also highly preventable, and smoke alarms and a home fire safety plan are two precautionary measures everyone should take.

Creating an evacuation plan doesn't have to be complicated. Such a plan can be established in a few minutes and then reinforced through practice every so often to keep everyone fresh on what to do.

- Begin by assessing the layout of the home. Figure out the two best exits from the home.
- If your home doesn't have two doors, invest in a fire ladder so that one of the windows can be a point of exit.
- Know how to gain access to the exits, including the best path to take to avoid injury. It's a good idea to consider a few different scenarios. A kitchen adjacent to the upstairs staircase may become engulfed in flames and make exit by way of staircase impossible. Just because you have doors to the outside doesn't mean they'll present the best type of exit.
- Sketch out the layout of the home and the escape plan. Smoke can make it difficult to know up from down. Be sure everyone can reach the exits even if vision is obstructed. Try it with your eyes closed.
- Check fire alarms routinely, and change batteries at least every year.
- Make sure windows can be easily opened if they are an exit point.
- Make note of who will be helping children or the elderly out of the home.
- Establish a place where the family will meet outdoors. This area should be far enough away from the home so that everyone will be safe from smoke, flames and falling debris. Fires may ignite fuel explosions, so be sure the meeting spot is a good deal away.
- Children should be instructed to run to the meeting spot immediately without waiting behind for anyone to catch up. No one should reenter the home after arriving at the meeting spot.
- Do a few practice runs so that everyone will be accustomed to getting out quickly.
- While in most cases it is better to escape and let the fire department extinguish a fire, in the event of a small fire, occupants may be able to stanch it with a personal fire extinguisher. Follow the acronym PASS to properly put out the fire.
 - PULL the pin in the extinguisher.
 - AIM the nozzle or hose at the base of the flames.
 - SQUEEZE the trigger.
 - SWEEP the foam across the fire base; do not just aim in one place.

Fire safety is very important. In conjunction with smoke alarms, a fire safety plan can help everyone get out alive.
