No county employees will be laid off during restructuring

By Amy Newsom
Correspondent

The Sibley County Board, at its regular meeting on Tuesday morning, July 12, passed resolution #2016-20 stating that “in no circumstances shall any employee layoffs occur as a result of the restructuring or re-organization process and it will examine opportunities to keep positions vacant when affected by the restructuring process.” County Administrator Roxy Traxler stated that there have been a lot of rumors flying around lately about people losing their jobs as part of the restructuring process. The resolution was passed to make it clear that the County Board will not lay off anyone and is committed to the goals approved in March 2016 which include better service, one-stop shopping, cross training, and efficiency of costs and services by reducing the number of departments and department heads.

County Commissioner Jim Swanson stated that “farmers have to run to several different places to get their stuff done.” The county wants to make it a one-stop shop. Swanson listed St. Peter as an example of a one-stop shop.

Residents go to one window and all of the people that do similar work are at that window. People can get everything done in one locality. Swanson felt that the rumors “are undermining the whole process.”

County Commissioner Bill Pinske also stated that he has always been a firm advocate that “nobody’s going to get laid off.” Pinske stated that he also felt it made good financial sense not to automatically refill a position when it becomes vacant.

County Commissioner Bobbie Harder stated that the restructuring committee “has been difficult. The treatment of Roxy and lack of respect.”

Swanson wanted to make it clear the restructuring process was not Traxler’s idea, but that it had been brought up four years ago already.

The Board voted unanimously to pass the resolution. The restructuring committee will make a presentation to everyone including board members, department heads, and employees on Thursday, Aug. 11.

100-Year Courthouse Social

Several hundred people attended the 100-Year Courthouse Social in Gaylord on Tuesday afternoon, July 12. There were tours in the courthouse and memorabilia from the courthouse was on display. Refreshments were also served. The Sibley County Courthouse inauguration and cornerstone laying ceremony was held in Gaylord during July of 1916. Standing on the second floor, this picture shows the architecture on the third floor.

Residents from throughout Sibley County lined up to sign the guest book which was on the second floor of the courthouse. The County Commissioners were very pleased with the turnout.

Commissioners hold discussion on needed courthouse repairs

By Amy Newsom
Correspondent

“What should we do with this building?” That was the question proposed to Sibley County Board members by County Administrator Roxy Traxler about the courthouse at the regular board meeting on Tuesday morning, July 12.

Traxler stated that replacing the windows has been mentioned as a priority, as well as the heating, venting, and air conditioning (HVAC). Traxler stated that fixing the HVAC system will be expensive, probably well over a million dollars.

County Commissioner Bobbie Harder also mentioned that they really need to fix the leaks in the courthouse. When it rains water runs inside the courthouse.

Traxler stated that two contractors have been out to look at the roof and said the leaks are not coming from the roof, but rather from an inside drain pipe and tuck-pointing problems. Traxler mentioned that the Minnesota Historical Society may have grant money available next month to fix the tuck-pointing. Since the courthouse is on the National Register, Traxler has been working with the Minnesota Historical Society and most work will have to be approved by the Historical Society.

Traxler also stated that the coal chute is falling down in the basement and really needs to be addressed. One problem leads to another and “it is difficult to fix one problem without fixing others.”

It was the consensus of the County Board to have Traxler pull together some estimates and meet with the administration committee to come up with a plan.

Traxler hopes to put together a five-year plan to tackle the needed repairs. If the Minnesota Historical Society has grant funds available, Traxler will present a proposal to the County Board at the regular meeting on Tuesday morning, July 26.

SE School Board conducts 4-minute special meeting

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The Sibley East School Board, during a four-minute special meeting in Arlington on Tuesday night, July 12, unanimously adopted a resolution to establish dates for filing affidavits of candidacy in regard to the general election on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

School Board members Brian Brandt, Nathan Kranz, Laura Reid, Missy Weber, Dan Woehler and Sarah Ziegler all voted in favor of the resolution.

The current four-year terms of Brandt, Kranz and Weber will expire at the end of this calendar year.

Prior to the vote, Kranz assumed the special meeting was called because there was a “screw up.” He then questioned why the resolution was not part of the agenda at the last regular monthly meeting.

Kranz later asked if the Minnesota School Board Association could remind Sibley East about such deadlines to avoid any special meetings in the future.

The five other School Board members did not respond to his questions.

The School Board will hold its next regular monthly meeting in Arlington at 6:30 p.m. Monday, July 18.

County Commissioners receive update from MnDOT at meeting

By Amy Newsom

Ronda Allis, a representative from the Minnesota Department of Transportation, updated the Sibley County Board on upcoming road projects in Sibley County from 2017 to 2026. The update came at the regular meeting in Gaylord on Tuesday morning, July 12.

Highway 22/111 from Gaylord to Nicollet is scheduled for work in 2020.

County Commissioner Gary Kruggel questioned if that road project could not be moved up. He has been hearing a lot of complaints about the condition of Highway 22 outside of Gaylord lately. Kruggel also questioned the placement of the large planters on Highway 22 in downtown Gaylord. He stated that there is not even enough room to open the passenger door when cars are parked next to a planter.

Bridge work in Winthrop is scheduled for 2021 and roadwork on Highway 5 from Green Isle to U.S. Highway 212 is scheduled for 2022. Work on Highway 19 between Winthrop and Gaylord is scheduled for 2026.

In other business, Sibley County Assessor Laura Hacker updated the County Board on the three remaining townships that have not signed the

Seal coating north of Gaylord

Motorists are advised to pay attention and expect brief delays as Highway 22 from Gaylord to Highway 212 is scheduled for work this week, weather permitting.

Motorists can expect to encounter flaggers and a pilot car beginning July 11. The project is expected to take about one week.

The work primarily consists of seal coating to prevent water from getting under the surface and damaging the pavement.

Minnesota's highway system is getting older and as it ages, it needs more work to keep it in good shape. These projects are preventative maintenance on newer pavements to keep them in good condition longer.

Upgrade at ethanol plant

Work continues on the Heartland Corn Products site in a continued effort to upgrade the ethanol plant, according to an article in the Winthrop News.

A large crane was brought in to do some heavy lifting. The crane lifted the combined heat and power ("CHP") boiler stack into place. This CHP equipment will allow Heartland to generate a portion of its electrical needs on site, as well as provide steam for the production process. The equipment should be operational before the end of 2016.

A driving rain storm early Tuesday night had Wednesday morning second-guessers baffled as to just how much rainfall this area did receive. Just to put the record straight, we called upon our local weather bureau, George Bach at the Big Stone Canning Company. The canning firm's rain gauge recorded just seven tenths of one inch, but he added, just four miles west of Arlington, a whopping 2 1/2 inches was recorded.

A quiet wedding ceremony was performed at St. Paul's Lutheran Church at 2 o'clock on Saturday, July 8th by the Rev. H. J. Malotky which united Mr. Raymond Heimkes, son of Mrs. Emily Heimke with Mrs. Mavis Herrmann. Mr. and Mrs. Duane Voight were the couple's attendants.

Shakopee raises minimum wage to $19 for some

If a business receives a subsidy from the City of Shakopee, it must meet city standards for the minimum wage it pays its employees, according to an article in the Shakopee Valley News.

The City Council, acting as the Shakopee Economic Development Authority, recently approved raising the minimum wage from 175 percent of the federal minimum wage to 200 percent of the minimum wage. In dollars and cents, that means companies receiving city subsidies will pay their employees a minimum of $19 per hour.

Companies that receive city subsidies - property tax abatement in many cases - must meet job creation goals to receive the subsidy.

The County Board directed Hacker to give the townships until Aug. 1 to return their contracts. If they do not return the contract by Aug. 1 they will not have a tax assessment contract with the county.

City Council to look into allowing alcohol in all local parks

Our View: City Council should conduct more research and move ahead with caution

The Arlington City Council, during its regular meeting on Tuesday night, July 5, voted 3-1 and approved a motion to look into amending the current ordinance and allow alcohol in all local parks with some type of application process.

The move is not a done deal and it is never a bad idea to hold a healthy discussion on any issue. However, the City Council should conduct thorough research and proceed with caution on this issue.

Under the current ordinance, alcohol is not allowed in local parks. Exceptions have been made in the past for special events sponsored by community service organizations or a city celebration. However, the current ordinance has never been followed or enforced in local parks.

It was recently reported to the City Council that some cities do not allow alcohol in their parks while other communities do allow alcohol in their parks.

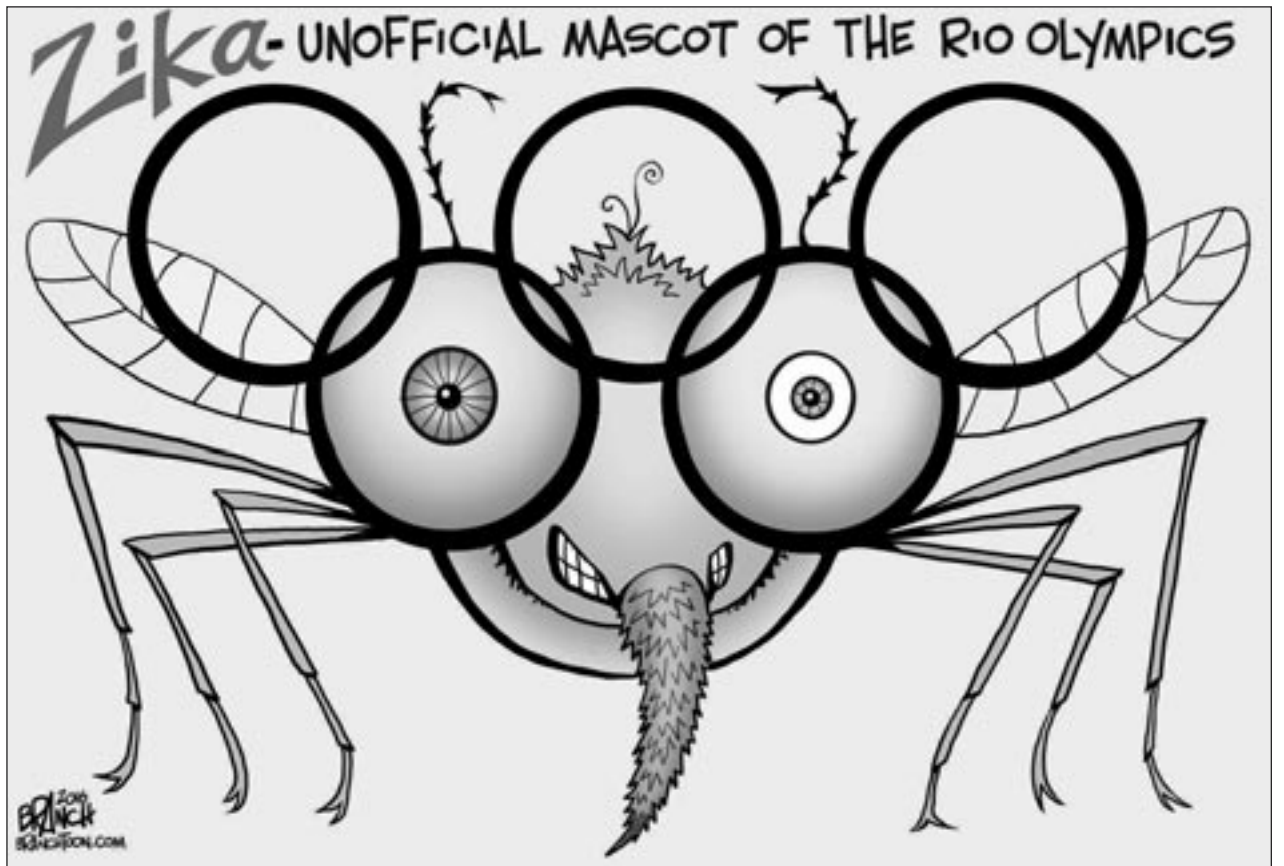

A good start is for the City Council to seek public input and determine whether or not local residents even want alcohol allowed in their city parks.

Another good idea is for local city officials to contact the communities that currently allow alcohol in their parks. These cities may be able to provide some important information that could be helpful to the City of Arlington.

One neighboring community did allow alcohol in their city parks years ago and experienced nothing but problems from broken glass to noise complaints to under-aged drinking. People flocked to that community because it allowed alcohol in the city parks. Boundaries and liability are key issues too.

This should not be a race, but a marathon. The City Council should take its time and proceed with caution on this issue.

Letters To The Editor

Rev. Richards make some erroneous assumptions

To The Editor,

With all due respect, I must respond to Rev. Scott Richards's letter to the editor from the June 30 edition of the Arlington Enterprise. I don't doubt the sincerity of his reaction to Congressman Gruenhagen, but I believe he makes some erroneous assumptions.

First, Rev. Richards says that it doesn't make any difference what Omar Mateen's religion was. Actually, there is a difference between radical Islam and Christianity. Orthodox Christians who believe in the inspiration and inerrancy of Scripture see homosexual acts as sin.

However, no truly orthodox Christian would advocate killing gay people. Rather, just as our Lord Jesus Christ does, we would want all sinners to come to repentance and forgiveness of sins, including ourselves.

Second, Rev. Richards seems to imply that disagreeing with same-sex marriage and with removing restrictions for using public bathrooms contributes to violence against LGBT people. One can make a distinction between those who disagree with these issues and those who would murder people. One can and should make such a distinction, especially in a free society. Calling people who disagree "homophobic" or "bigot" unfairly shuts down reasonable debate.

If Rev. Richards thinks Rep. Gruenhagen's beliefs are sinful--and mine, too, I suppose--then shouldn't that be an opportunity for him to speak the truth in love? Although he may not welcome Rep. Gruenhagen's prayers, or mine either, I will continue to pray for them both, and I would hope that Rev. Richards would pray for me.

Dumb Men Jokes

Why are all dumb blonde jokes one liners?

So men can understand them.

What is the difference between government bonds and men?

Government bonds mature.

What's a man's idea of helping with the housework?

Lifting his legs so you can vacuum?

Why is a psychoanalysis a lot quicker for men than women?

When it's time to go back to his childhood, he's already there.

What did God say after He created man?

"I can do better than this."

How do men define a "50-50" relationship?

Women cook/men eat; Women clean/men dirty; Women iron/men wrinkle.

What's the best way to force a man to do sit-ups?

Put the remote control between his feet.

How do men exercise at the beach?

By sucking in their stomachs every time they see a girl in a bikini.

What does a man consider to be a seven-course meal?

A hot dog and a six-pack.

How are men like noodles?

They are always in hot water, they lack taste, and they need dough.

Why is it good that there are female astronauts?

When the crew gets lost in space at least the women will ask for directions.

"I'd like the number for Jennifer Smith in Richmond, Virginia," the young man said to the 411 operator.

"There are multiple listings for Jennifer Smith in Richmond, Virginia," the operator said. "Do you have a street name?"

The young man hesitated a moment. "Well, uh, some people call me Snake."

It was the day of the big sale. A long line had formed by opening time.

A man pushed his way to the front of the line, only to be pushed back, amid shouts. On the man's second attempt, he was knocked around and then thrown to the end of the line again.

As he got ready for a third try, he said to the person at the end of the line, "That does it! If they hit me one more time, I won't open the store!"

A man went to his lawyer and said, "I would like to make a will but I don't know exactly how to go about it."

The lawyer said, "No problem, leave it all to me."

Astonished, he replied, "Well I knew you were going to take the biggest slice, but I'd like to leave a little to my children too!"

America - A nation on the brink?

To The Editor,

America, America, what has happened to thee? A once great nation now down on its knee. Where justice is served to a select chosen few. And God is no longer spoken, when you sit in the pew. America, America, is thy end near? From the events of this month this is what I do fear.

We have to ask ourselves, what kind of country are we giving to our children? What have we allowed America to become? It has been said that God gives us the government we deserve. As we reject God in our everyday lives, we elect corruption into leadership. Our President, governor, Minneapolis mayor, Minneapolis police chief, Twin Cities media, and select pastors are actively trying to create and deepen a divide in this country along racial, sexual, and economic lines. We have a local pastor who basks in the glory of living a lifestyle which God declared sinful in the Old Testament and reiterated in the New Testament. We have removed or are trying to remove the presence of God and Jesus in all aspects of public life by falsely claiming that the federal constitution claims "separation of Church and State", a statement which is not in the federal constitution.

Therefore, when we allow these actions to take place, is it any wonder that we have forgotten who our neighbors are or that loving them does not equate to condoning their sinful actions? Is it any wonder that we have a small group of people allowed to illegally detain others on a federal highway as city, state, and public safety leadership encourages it to happen? Is it any wonder that people have no faith in the judicial system when Hillary Clinton, the presumptive presidential nominee for the Democrat Party skates by free for doing the same things that others have gone to jail for?

These are trying times and if we don't elect men and women who have based their lives on God's word then I am afraid that this is indeed the end of a once great nation called - America.

Ms. Weber is using a smokescreen

To The Editor,

In Missy Weber's letter calling for Nathan Kranz needing to be a team player she is using her name calling as a ruse to conceal a very real problem. The continual failure by The Board to the students, parents and taxpayers. To make a mistake is human and can be forgiven. It can be instructive and changes can make things better. Continual mistakes are either ineptitude, ignorance, or standard operating procedure. The arrogance that we can do whatever we want and the public will not notice.

Ms. Weber has been on the Board as it failed to publish the School Board meeting minutes to the students, parents, and the public in a timely manner for over a year. Only complying when a threat of an open meeting law violation was raised.

She was on the Board when the Minnesota State Patrol report on bus safety in Minnesota rated the district as having one of the worst inspection records in Minnesota two years ago. That was never on an agenda, never brought to a public discussion, no action was ever noted. That inaction brought student safety, parental concerns, and Board oversight into question.

And now Principal Tim Schellhammer unilaterally chose a new graduation program. He did not present his change to the School Board at a public meeting. There was no discussion and no timely public input. The first notice came when students came home from graduation practice two days before the ceremony. And there still had been no public notice to the Board during a public meeting. The parents who called probably represent at least ten more who didn't call. Making a change in the graduation ceremony without notifying the Board is the problem. What else is going on without Board approval or knowledge?

Rather than hold Mr. Schellhammer accountable for his actions, she accuses yet another failure with accounts of emails, contacting neighboring districts, and colleagues through the Minnesota Association of Secondary Principals. She is clearly covering for the administration and not representing the students, parents or taxpayers. She has become part of the problem not the solution.

One has to question Ms. Weber's focus. The graduation ceremony should be all about the students and their achievements sharing the moment with their parents, family and friends. By sending the students across the stage to pick up empty packets and asking them to pick up their diplomas at the school at a later date, Ms. Weber finds the problem with Nathan Kranz in bringing this to the attention of the Board and public.

Ms. Weber, Nathan Kranz was elected to change the direction of the Board, to call out the wrongs and attempt to correct them. I doubt anyone who voted for him wanted him to be a team player and continue the failures with which you have been involved. Those same voters will be looking for more candidates like Nathan who serves the students, parents, and taxpayers.

Gaylord City Council denies social media grievance

Grievance denied. That was the decision by the Gaylord City Council last month as it considered a grievance involving the city's social media policy, according to an article in the Gaylord Hub.

At the June 1 City Council meeting, Gaylord resident Diana Karau, who is also a candidate for Sibley County Commissioner, voiced concern that she was being censored on the city's Facebook page. She had been commenting on different posts using a profile picture of her campaign sign for county commissioner.

The city office began receiving complaints that this was being done as a way to campaign on the city's page, according to Gaylord City Administrator Kevin McCann. According to the city's social media policy, staff has full discretion to remove content. Staff initially asked Karau to change her picture, but she declined, so staff was forced to hide her comments, McCann added.

In the city's social media policy that was adopted in April 2014, it states that the city reserves the right to delete any information. The city contends Karau's posts were linked to advertising for sales or promotion of goods/services.

At the June 15 meeting, Karau told City Council members that she doesn't believe her Facebook profile picture fits the definition of goods and services. "I'm not violating your social media policy based on what the city highlighted," Karau said. "I'm just confused."

Mayor Don Boeder responded by saying that the city has always played neutral and doesn't endorse anybody. "A fine line was crossed," Boeder said.

The City Council was unanimous in denying Karau's grievance.

Karau said she respected the city's decision, but didn't agree with it. "I'm not seeking endorsement and not campaigning," she said. "I'm just participating in the process."

City Council member Jim Landaas said campaigning may not have been Karau's intent, but "perception is the key" in this situation.

Guest Column

Parcel fees and USDA lease program

By Bobbie Harder
County Commissioner

Over the past weeks, I have received several questions regarding the change in parcel fees and the USDA lease proposal.

So much of what happens in the county is dictated by laws and rules written or passed at the state and federal level. Here is an example of how a state law affects us. A proposal was presented by the county assessor at a board meeting to increase the yearly per parcel fee for cities and townships. For our the district the fee will be raised to $10 for Henderson and $8.50 for townships. The fee is to help cover the cost of viewing properties/land to determine estimated market value. Reasons for the proposed change is due to 2) the cost would be consistent for all parcels in cities and townships, b) costs due to an increase of licensing requirements, c) upgrading the software for efficiency and accuracy. The estimated cost to certify an employee is approximately $7,382.

See Minnesota Statute (273.0535) "The county or local assessing district must assume the cost of training its assessors in courses approved by the board for the purpose of obtaining the assessor's license to the extent of course fees, mileage, meals, and lodging, and recognized travel expenses not paid by the state."

Generally I am not in favor of raising taxes. However, it is difficult to control our costs when the state creates laws such as the one mentioned. The Assessor's Department is being transparent in their efforts to educate residents to fully understand what costs we are paying for and how the money is used.

Early last year, I attended a meeting where discussion was held regarding the lack of space for several agencies which included NRCS (Natural Resources Conservation Services), FSA (Farm Service Agency), and SWCD (Soil and Water Conservation District). Originally my thought was not to consider a new facility. Since that meeting, having done more research had led me to reconsider to either look at a new facility or explore other options which can save money for all of us. In effect the county rents additional space in commercial buildings. This year we will incur for renting space a total of $23,170.80. This is lost money as we gain no equity.

The county provides quarterly contributions for SWCD. Some of the funds are used to rent private commercial space at a cost of $5,170 for 2016. From information obtained, this space has been rented for over 20 years with the average monthly cost of around $400. We pay rent for the county attorney's private office space. For 2016, the cost will be $18,000. The cost of this space from 2008 to 2015 totaled $128,400. Since 1988, we have been paying rent and the total is substantially higher. For both of these examples, this is lost money and no equity has been gained as a result of using our money to pay rent.

Should we consider a new facility to house SWCD, other county offices that need space, and move the county attorney's office to the courthouse? Is it appropriate for the county attorney's office to be located in Gaylord which is the county seat? We would be able to build equity and have the federal government (USDA) pay us for leased space to help in covering the cost of a new modern facility.

Sibley County has developed goals to establish where we will be in five to 10 years. With looking at reorganizing departments for efficiency and streamlining processes, this option maybe very helpful in meeting the goals set by the county. Pending lease approval, future discussion should continue which would also include looking at other options.

Green Isle to remain in Class C

By Tom Carothers
Sports Editor, The McLeod County Chronicle

A motion to recommend to the Minnesota Baseball Association (MBA) that the Green Isle Irish be moved up to Class B this season was voted down 10-4 at a special meeting of the Crow River Valley League (CRVL) on Monday, July 11.

The meeting had been initially called for the purposes of discussing the recruiting practices within the CRVL, with focus on whether Green Isle should be moved up from Class C to B due to a perceived extended recruiting reach.

Glencoe, Watertown and Mayer presented the topic of discussion, with Brewers manager Stephen Wiblemo pointing out that the Irish roster consisted of a wealth of players with home addresses that are very close to the frontier of the 30-mile radius from which CRVL teams are allowed to search for players.

As noted in the meeting's discussion points: "Green Isle's 23-man roster consists of 16 current or former baseball players, many of whom have been recruited from communities far from Green Isle, such as Minnetonka, Victoria and Excelsior. Eight of those college players have addresses from 25 miles out or further, and 10 are from 20 miles out or further. Just six players on their roster come from their home school district, Sibley East, and 11 are within a 15-mile radius."

"(Green Isle) is not breaking any rules," Wiblemo admitted, though he questioned whether the Irish were playing "in the spirit" of Class C.

"Their players are very good, but not necessarily local."

Hamburg manager Rich Schug pointed out that the MBA is currently "putting together a program to address" roster makeup and questioned the timing of discussing the recruiting practices of league teams in general.

Wiblemo said that while some teams do have to reach out for players, "the question is to what extent do we allow reaching out," while noting that he felt the league did not have to wait for the MBA to make a decision.

Josh Monahan of Watertown said that while he "was on the fence all year" about the matter, he encouraged the league to "take a look at this and decide."

Following the initial presentation, the Green Isle contingent retorted, with Irish player Zach Herd asking for a definition of "recruiting practices" and putting out a blanket question regarding CRVL teams' five-year plans and goals. He also wondered aloud whether the Irish were being singled out for their success.

"I'm not mad, I'm frustrated that we are here discussing something that doesn't have a lot of meat to it," he said. "You have the same access to players - we can't help where we are on a map."

Debate ensued between Herd and Wiblemo, with the former inquiring whether catcher Josh Kraby leaving Glencoe for Green Isle last off-season was the impetus for wanting the Irish moved out of Class C.

Wiblemo countered, "I brought up something that the rest of the state has been thinking and talking about."

Green Isle's Brian Hartmann ran down the team roster, noting, "We're not picking up ringers. We have to go get guys. The local high school program has to support three teams."

"These aren't (Division I or II) top players," he said. "Ours is not a Class B roster."

The meeting was marked by pronounced periods of silence when other CRVL teams were given the opportunity to weigh in on the issue.

"I felt we needed a meeting," Monahan said. "There's been a lot of talk around the league. I'm not sure why people are being silent here - maybe people feel intimidated, or had a change of heart."

A motion was made by Wiblemo and seconded by Monahan whether to ask the MBA to consider moving Green Isle to Class B as early as the state board's meeting this Saturday. Schug moved that a roll-call vote be taken rather than a closed ballot, a proposal that inspired further debate.

Following an extended discussion, a roll-call tally was approved and teams were asked their votes on the matter.

Brownton joined Glencoe, Mayer and Watertown in voting to recommend moving Green Isle to Class B.

Green Isle, Plato, New Germany, St. Boni, Winsted, Carver, Cologne, Waconia, Young America and Hamburg voting for the status quo.

Following the vote, the meeting was promptly called to an end.

300.14.21.8 SETBACKS AND STANDARDS

300.14.21.8.1.

Solar energy systems shall be subject to the structure setbacks set forth in each respective Zoning District in respect to property lines, road right-of-way lines, County tile lines, and County and Joint Ditches.

a. The Zoning Administrator may waive the joint and county tile line setback requirements upon a written recommendation approving such waiver from the Sibley County Drainage Inspector. Such waiver will take into consideration the depth of the tile, the structural integrity of the tile, the soil characteristics, the location of the tile to surrounding structures, and any other information deemed to be of importance. The written waiver, if approved, shall state that by reducing the minimum setback requirement the project will not negatively affect the structure or utility of the tile and will not create problems for the future maintenance or relocation of the tile.

Any ground mounted solar energy system larger than .25 acres in area must be located at least 150 feet away from any dwelling, other than the project owner's dwelling.

In addition to the building setback, the collector surface and mounting devices for roof-mounted solar energy systems that are parallel to the roof surface shall not extend beyond the exterior perimeter of the building on which the system is mounted or built. The collector and racking for roof-mounted systems that have a greater pitch than the roof surface shall be set back from all roof edges by at least 2 feet. Exterior piping for solar thermal systems shall be allowed to extend beyond the perimeter of the building on a side yard exposure.

2. Ground-mounted Solar Energy Systems.

i. Ground-mounted solar energy systems may not extend into the side-yard, rear, or road right-of-way setback when oriented at minimum design tilt.

ii. Ground-mounted solar energy systems that result in the creation of one or more acres of impervious surface, must comply with the MPCA Construction Stormwater Permit Requirements.

c. Suburban Residence District.

1. The total solar collector surface area of pole or ground mount solar energy systems in the Suburban Residence District shall not exceed ten percent of the lot area.

2. Ground-mounted or pole-mounted solar energy systems shall not exceed 8 feet in height when oriented at maximum tilt.

3. Ground-mounted or pole-mounted solar energy systems shall be fully screened from neighboring residential properties.

d. Building and roof-mounted solar energy systems cannot be installed without a written certification of a qualified engineer or building inspector licensed by the State of Minnesota that the building or roof is structurally capable of bearing the solar energy system.

e. Approved Solar Components.

Electric solar energy system components must have an Underwriters Laboratory (UL) listing.

f. Compliance with State Electric Code. All photovoltaic systems shall comply with the Minnesota State Electric Code.

g. Utility Notification. No grid-interactive photovoltaic system shall be installed until evidence has been given to the Zoning Administrator that the owner has notified the utility company of the customer's intent to install an interconnected customer-owned generator. Off-grid systems are exempt from this requirement.

h. Vegetative screening or buffering of the solar energy system may be required as part of the conditions of approval. Screening or buffering shall be based on the proximity of the system to residential buildings and to abutting public rights-of-way.

300.14.21.8.4.

Standards for Large Solar Energy Systems.

a. Stormwater Management and Erosion and Sediment Control shall meet the requirements of the MPCA Construction Stormwater Permit requirements.

b. Foundations. The manufacturer's engineer or another qualified engineer shall certify that the foundation and design of the solar panels is within accepted professional standards, given local soil and climate conditions.

c. Other standards and codes. All Large Solar Energy Systems shall be in compliance with any applicable local, state and federal regulatory standards, including the State of Minnesota Uniform Building Code, as amended; and the National Electric Code, as amended.

d. Power and communication lines. Power and communication lines running between banks of solar panels and to electric substations or interconnections with buildings shall be buried underground, to the extent practicable.

e. Wetlands. All Large Solar Energy Systems shall be in compliance with all applicable federal, state, and local wetland laws, rules, and regulations and shall provide copies of all wetland permits obtained in connection with the Large Solar Energy System to Sibley County upon request.

300.14.21.9. DECOMMISSIONING

In the event that a solar energy system is unused or abandoned for a period of 12 consecutive months, the solar energy system must be removed by the system owner or landowner.
