Mardi Gras to Ash Wednesday The Fleeting Gives Way to the Eternal

his week Mardi Gras comes to its climax with parades, celebrations, parties and revelry. The period of celebration that began in many places after Epiphany on January 6, will reach its highest point of celebration that will come to an abrupt end with the dawning of Ash Wednesday, the beginning of the season of Lent. In the Christian tradition Lent is a time for repentance and conversion in preparation for the celebration of the passion death and resurrection of the Lord. In many places Lent is a time for prayer, for fasting and for the sharing of one's wealth with the poor and needy all with the goal of being ready to enter into the mysteries of our salvation.

It would be tempting just to lay these two celebrations side by side and think that they really have no relationship to one another, but in the end, a little contemplation reveals a deeper religious meaning and connection between the two celebrations.

Mardi Gras is marked by excess. Rich food, flowing alcohol, dancing in the streets, masks and revelry reach their zenith on Tuesday. By Wednesday many will be left with cheap trinkets, mangled masks, vague memories of a great party and for many a hangover and disappointment as life returns to its normal and less celebratory reality. The fleeting celebrations fade into the past as the present exerts its own logic and discipline.

Ash Wednesday on the other hand is marked by austerity. Faithful Christians are called to remember that our present lives are to be spent in preparation for eternal life. We are reminded of our own weakness and sin. We are called to fast, and that fasting creates an emptiness that longs to be filled by the word of God. We are invited to deepen our conversation with God and find the true meaning of our lives, and we are reminded that God's generous blessings in our lives makes it possible for us to generously change the lives of those who suffer.

In the end Mardi Gras is fun and diverting, but leads to an incomplete and fleeting happiness. Ash Wednesday appears to be a stern reminder of sin, but leads us to a new understanding of the gift of faith. As the music and celebration of Mardi Gras fades into memory we are invited to reach for a lasting and joyous future in the Lord. Have fun on Tuesday, but come and claim the prize on Wednesday.

Brownton City Council February Meeting

· Melanie Lindeman approached Council regarding BABS upgrade proposals to the west softball field wherein they requested electricity to the shack, dugouts and fences, BABS has funding for the upgrades and was given the go ahead to proceed with the upgrades with promised support from the city.

• Bob Ruppe of Couri & Ruppe P.L.L.P. spoke on behalf of Collins township. He recommended changes to the existing township fire protection agreements, many of which were pertaining to potential liability issues and legal verbiage explaining the agreement conditions in greater de-

Ruppe also included that Collins Township feels the fire protection calculations, based on property valuation, is unfair to Collins Township as their lake shore properties are overvalued just because they're by the lake, thus causing inflated fire protection costs. His argument is that it doesn't cost more to fight a fire by the lake vs. anywhere else. Collins Township would be satisfied if their fire protection would be decreased by $5,000 annually for the remaining eight years of the contract. Also stated in Ruppe's fire protection agreement recommendations, "all or part of the sections of the township identified above (may be transferred to the city of Stewart Fire Department in the future." M a y o r Schwarze ended the discussion stating this topic needs to be tabled and discussed with all the townships present at the annual fire department meeting on February 15 as any changes would impact both the city and other townships within the Brownton Fire District.

·John Rodeberg (SEH) reported that Rural Development has given approval to move ahead with the 2018 Infrastructure Project. The resolution to advertise for bids was approved; bids will be opened on February 28 and awarded on April 3. The April 3 meeting will include construction updates and open house to the public.

· Public Works plowed snow, took bucket truck in for annual inspection, replaced sensor in flow meter, and researched lawn mower quotes. Council approved purchase of an Exmark mower to replace the Toro at trade-in cost of $6,879.00. Padlocks will be installed to all inside doors and windows in the east school building to deter further vandalism.

· Police Chief report included upcoming PTSD training for FD's Sheriff's office, PD's and first responders. East school break in is still under investigation; they have people of interest, but no proven suspects at this time. Chief's training is scheduled in Duluth.

· Whereas the owners at 204 1st Avenue South asked Council to allow them to renovate the house, Council made the decision to stop all work on the house and request it be removed; followup hearing is scheduled on February 8.

· Councilman Brian Dressel submitted his resignation effective March 6, 2018, which Council accepted with regrets and thus, declared a vacancy. Council will appoint fill the position until November, at which time it will be placed on the ballot as a two-year term

· Council approved $60 monthly stipends for Chief Bauer and Officer Anderson's cell phones

Upon motion, meeting was adjourned.
