Softball team is young, but experienced

By Josh Randt
Sports Editor

Coming off a 5-10 season from last year, a young Glencoe-Silver Lake softball team gained some experience, and now hopes to compete more within the Wright County Conference.

The only face missing from last year is Cortney Lemke, who the Panthers will miss on the mound.

Lemke earned all-conference recognition, but was forced primarily into pitching duties with an inexperienced squad.

While his girls are still green, Head Coach Steve Davis likes the look of his team this year.

"We have a pretty strong, deep team," Davis said. "We're deeper than the past. We've actually got some competition in spots."

Davis even looks to have an actual pitching rotation on his hands, instead of leaning on one horse, like Lemke, last year.

"We've got three very good pitchers who have added more velocity," Davis said of Moriah Maunu (9), Maddy Kalenberg (10) and Becca Green (11). "Now we've got options, instead of one girl."

Steph Klockmann also earned all-conference last year as a junior, and will be counted on heavily in her senior season.

"She's our best player. She can play any position," Davis said. "Right now, she's kind of penciled into first (base), but she can play anywhere. We'll see how the season goes, and she'll fill in the gaps."

Amanda Meyer is the only other senior on the roster. Davis said she could see time at a number of spots, though she's currently vying for a position in the field.

Juniors Josie Schmitt and Rachel Rusten earned honorable mention honors last season, with Schmitt covering second and Rusten patrolling

Orth event goes big

Watertown-Mayer's Luke Sandquist won the dunk competition at the 2014 Tim Orth Foundation Basketball Jamboree on Saturday with a series of two-handed slams. Sandquist earned a scholarship for winning the competition, but his Red team lost to the Black team 80-77.

The 16th-annual Tim Orth Foundation Basketball Jamboree kept audiences entertained this past weekend, while introducing some local youths with costly medical needs to the area.

Patrons packed the Glencoe-Silver Lake gymnasium with an abundance of events and activities scheduled and plenty of silent auction items to mull over.

This year's recipients were honored in between boys' and girls' basketball games made up of area all-stars.

Each recipient and their family were recognized by the audience, and escorted by a Crown College basketball player as they made their way to half court.

Emotions ran high during the powerful ceremony that left many applauding and cheering the families who stood before them.

The basketball games were interrupted frequently, but with good reason, as many organizations, groups and clubs displayed entertaining talents or put on events for onlookers, including a Buffalo Wild Wings eating contest.

Claiming the girls' game 55-46 was the red team, which was led by Hutchinson's Taylor Jurgenson, who finished with 18 points. Miranda Schulz (Waconia) also chipped in 16 of her own while Madison Christie (Hutch) scored seven.

The Black team's Andi Gayner (Dassel-Cokato) scored 13, while her Charger teammate Brenna Olsen (DC) finished with 10.

While the Black team lost, Megan Eckberg brought home a scholarship from the girls' shootout, making five three-pointers.

For the boys, the Black team edged the Red team 80-77 in a back-and-forth battle.

Leading the way for the victors was Austin Smith (Howard Lake-Waverly-Winsted) with 18. His Laker teammate Alex Smith (HLWW) finished with 11, while Eric Madsen (Litchfield) and Cole Petersen (Glencoe-Silver Lake) each finished with 10 a piece.

Waconia's Tommy Gove led Red scorers with 15, while Nick Machemehl (Lester Prairie/Holy Trinity) dropped 14.

Hunter Hulley (Watertown-Mayer) and Alex Heigl (LPHT) each scored 10 as well for the Red in a losing effort.

Luke Sandquist (WM) won the slam

Solid on the track, searching in the field

By Josh Randt
Sports Editor

With a number of seniors departing after last year's track season, Head Coaches Josh Metcalf and Robb DeCorsey are now trying to filter in replacements in numerous spots.

At last year's state track meet, Glencoe-Silver Lake had three boys medal in different events, as well as a girls' 4x200-meter relay team, which failed to make it to the final round.

Total, GSL competed in six different events at last year's state meet.

This year's team only boasts 13 seniors, but they will be counted on for plenty of points.

Both Metcalf and DeCorsey got a chance to see their teams in action as indoor meets at St. John's and St. Thomas Universities afforded coaches and athletes a welcome change from running in hallways.

The first meet of the season is scheduled for April 8 at Mankato West.

With a new track surface intact, GSL will host three meets: a conference meet on April 28, followed by an invitational the next day. The final home meet is May 22 for the subsection championship.

Boys

"We have a lot of holes to fill," Metcalf said of the boys. "Especially with (Trent) Draeger gone, who we could count on scoring in three jumping events. (Greg) Ober usually scored in three or four (events), as well as (Ryan) Kuester. Tanner Konen qualified for state in the pole vault ... I don't know if there's any one person that's going to be able to cover those four. Hopefully we'll be able to piece together some people to compete."

The biggest concern for Metcalf is finding some points from the field.

"I think we'll be OK on the track, but we'll definitely have to find some field guys to step up and replace those points we've lost from last year."

Helping to generate some scores in the field will be throwers Tyler Donnay and Adam Eberhard, a pair of seniors who competed regularly last year.

The boys' 4x2 relay team had its ticket to state punched with only two runners left, but a botched hand off kept the boys at home.

Making up this year's 4x2 are a quartet of seniors, one of which participated in the event last year.

Keenan Mehlos is the lone returnee from last year's group. Gus Mendoza and Kyle Beck, along with newcomer Jake Stuedemann, round out the rest of the 4x2 relay.

One area Metcalf has his sights set on for some points is distance.

Members from this year's GSL boys' cross country team who placed sixth at state will test their spring-legs in track.

Metcalf plans to throw Brandon Richter, Garret Ardolf, Cody Becker, Jac Chelman, Michael Schaefer and Freddy Pena in the mix. All but Pena saw varsity experience in cross country.

More cross country boys are set to feature in the mile and two mile. Isiah Herout, Casey Schulz and Austin Schroeffer will focus in on those events, and possibly Chelman as well.

Metcalf said the goal for this year's boys' team is solid finish in the conference and section.

"We've been very competitive year in and out in the Wright County Conference," Metcalf said. "Being the last year where it'll be a full conference meet, it would be a nice chance to be in the top three again ... Our real focus is essentially true team, conference, subsections, section and state. Those are the only five that really matter. Outside of that, at the other meets we'll be trying to figure out what our strongest lineup is."

Girls

The girls may not have lost as many pieces, but the ones they did lose will be tough to replace as well.

Kelly Beneke was part of the 4x2 relay team that participated in state. Stepping in to fill Beneke's shoes this year is junior Emily Muetzel, who ran on last year's 4x400-meter relay.

"She's put in a lot of work in the weight room," DeCorsey said of Muetzel. "So I expect them to do well."

Clarissa Ober was "one of the best throwers in the conference," accord-

Panther JO 17s claim 1st at two tourneys

The Panther JO Volleyball 17s recently took home the championship trophy from the Hutch Tiger Jam on March 30 to cap off the season. The Panthers also claimed first at the LeSueur-Henderson tourna-

It's been a year already?

It's hard to believe, but it's already been a year since I took the reins from Lee Ostrom as the sports editor here at the Chronicle.

When I walked into the office last year at this time I was full of anticipation and nervousness.

Those feelings still remain, although it's mainly because I'm not sure what I'll be blamed for or asked to do next.

As sports editor, part of my duties include changing clocks during daylight savings time, and I even swapped out fluorescent light bulbs one slow afternoon as our receptionist, Trish, was on the verge of a seizure.

I'll admit. I was a little leary coming back to work in my hometown, but with a year under my belt, I'm confident it was the right decision. At least for myself.

I'm sure some of you out there have no idea what I'm talking about at times. That's fine, because I don't always know either.

It truly has been great getting back in touch with old teachers and coaches, though it's kind of weird since we're on a professional level now.

Patrolling the sidelines at Panther football games, I found myself instinctively corresponding to the coach's shouts of "BACK UP! GET BEHIND THE LINE!" Until I remembered that I have a camera and a note pad instead of a helmet and nut cup.

Indeed, my job keeps me busy and traveling all over the state, which I thoroughly enjoy. Though, the Panther girls' basketball playoff-game versus Norwood-Young America that was scheduled in Northfield in the middle of winter was a tad idiotic. But I ended up finding a little hole-in-the wall bar that serves excellent chili. So I guess I can't complain.

Josh Randt

But by far, my favorite part about this job is the interaction with the kids, because after all, it's about them.

There are plenty of stories I cover that don't feature high school athletes, but that's where the majority of my time is spent.

Even on days when I'm a bit crabby, all it takes is a walk through the high school or a sporting event to bring a smile across my face.

It's all sort of come full circle for myself, and I can certainly tell you that I didn't plan on coming back to Glencoe once I was done with college.

Just like I didn't plan on having a still swollen finger from my tussle with Dalton Clouse in December, but, hey, the beat goes on. Literally.

I can tell you without a shred of doubt that I am in a much better place overall since I moved back a year ago.

When I wrote my introductory article at this time last year, I asked you to bear with me as I adjust to my new position.

I thank all of you for going through this transition phase, as I know it was an adjustment after I took over for Lee, who did such a fantastic job for over a decade.

I just hope that all of you are as excited about my second year as sports editor, as much as I'm excited to be here, no matter how unlikely we all thought this would be.

ing to DeCorsey, who will now be replaced primarily by Zoe Christensen, an eighth grader.

Jenna Haag was a regular fixture in the 4x400-meter relay, as well as the 400-meter dash.

DeCorsey said there's a "slew of freshmen" that could fill in for Haag, including Erica Hecksel and Maddie Monahan.

"With the events that they covered and excelled in, we have a lot to replace," DeCorsey said. "Those three girls are gigantic to lose."

Though DeCorsey's lost some valuable assets, he still has two senior leaders in Kelly Arnold and Tori Burr.

Burr is also hoping to turn success from the fall into points for the track team, as she finished 21st at the state cross country meet this past fall. She'll be competing in the one and two mile.

"She's always been a solid at the one and two (mile)," DeCorsey said of Burr. "She's definitely the leader of the distance bunch. They follow her lead. I'd love to see her breakthrough and get to state this year."

Arnold returns after a junior season where she made it to state on the 4x2 relay team, and as an individual in the 200-meter dash.

"I really think she can get back to state in both events," DeCorsey said of Arnold. "Kelly is the leader of the other half of the team. She spent a lot of time in the weight room during the off season, and I want that to pay off for her."

Like the boys, DeCorsey will need some help in the field. Despite that, the coach said his team should have their gaze upon subsections.

"It would be nice to win the subsection again, and I think there's a chance of that," said DeCorsey. "But we need to find some people in the field events."

Ober, Jackrabbits in WNIT final four vs. UTEP

By Josh Randt Sports Editor

In her freshman season as a South Dakota State University Jackrabbit, Clarrissa Ober, of Glencoe, has helped the girls' basketball team to the Final Four of the Women's National Invitation Tournament (WNIT).

Ober has come off the bench this season for the Jackrabbits, but has averaged 14 minutes per game.

Currently, she's shooting 44 percent from the field and averaging 4.6 points a game.

Where Ober has really made her mark is rebounding. The freshman is fourth on the team in total rebounds with 141, and second on the team in offensive rebounds with 43.

Since entering the WNIT, Ober has shot 35 percent from the field, ripped down 23 rebounds, scored 22 points and tallied seven blocks in 66 minutes of playing time.

One of her biggest nights came in a 70-62 victory of Minnesota, where Ober played 24 minutes and had nine rebounds, eight points and two blocks.

SDSU now plays the University of Texas El Paso at 8 p.m. tonight (Wednesday) for the chance to play in the WNIT championship against the victor of Rutgers versus South Florida.

the grass in right field.

What really has the coach excited is his batting order.

"If you look at the lineup, we're pretty good one-to-nine," said Davis. "These nine will put it in play and give us a chance to win. We've got a good competitive batting order for our conference."

Right now, it's looking like Rusten could lead off, with Schmitt behind her and Klockmann rounding out the top three.

Piper Davis will most likely bat cleanup, though Becca Green could see time there as well.

"It kind of depends on who's starting," said Coach Davis.

The West Division of the Wright County Conference is where the Panthers hope to challenge.

"We hope to compete on our side of the conference, or win it," Coach Davis said. "Our skills are good enough. I would be disappointed if we're not toward the top (of the division).

And for sections, I think it's time that we win a section game and get to Mankato. We're good enough for that."

The first game of the season is scheduled for Friday, April 4, versus Norwood-Young America. Though, weather could play a factor as the fields are still quite soggy.

Jayden Juergensen (Hutch) claimed the three-point challenge for the boys and also walked away with a scholarship.

Free vaccinations planned for county 6th graders April 9

The Minnesota Department of Health (MDH) Immunization Program is collaborating with the Office of Emergency Preparedness to provide vaccines to the local public health department for a full-scale mass vaccination exercise.

The vaccines are available through Federal 317 vaccine funding, but can only be used in very specific circumstances. In this case, MDH can provide vaccines for any child, including fully insured children, only during mass vaccination exercises for public health preparedness purposes.

MDH encouraged the local public health department to consider using this opportunity to conduct school-located vaccination exercises (an allowable type of mass vaccination exercise).

MDH recommended choosing adolescent vaccines to meet the proposed updates to the School and Child Care Immunization Law, vaccines such as meningococcal or Tdap.

“Do Something Easy Today: Get immunized” is the theme of the reminder card sent to parents of adolescents this month in preparation for the coming changes to the immunization laws.

On Sept. 1, changes to Minnesota’s immunization law will take effect. Medical and conscientious exemptions are still allowed under the law. The new vaccines that will require documentation of immunization or a legal exemption include:

- Tetanus, diphtheria, pertussis (Tdap) – Required for all students entering seventh grade in September 2014.

Students in eighth through 12th grade must show documentation if the school requests it.

This replaces the Td immunization requirement.

- Meningitis (meningococcal) – Required for all students entering seventh grade in September 2014. Students entering eighth through 12th grade must show documentation if the school requests it.

To assist in the transition of the changes public health departments in McLeod, Meeker and Sibley counties have partnered with all the schools in each of their counties.

McLeod County Public Health, Glencoe Regional Health Services, Hutchinson Health, McLeod County Emergency Management and Minnesota Responds (a component of the Medical Reserve Corps) have joined together to create a mass vaccination exercise for 11- and 12-year-olds who will be entering seventh grade in September 2014.

Director of McLeod County Public Health, Kathy Nowak said, “It’s a great way to build community partnerships while serving a large population of kids.”

The immunizations to be given on April 9 will be free for all children 11-12 years old regardless of insurance or pay status while supplies last.

Information packets will be sent home with the children through each of the schools that house sixth-grade students. Parents should look over the information, determine which immunization(s) their child needs, sign the consent form and return it to school.

The four immunizations offered during the exercise are: meningococcal, Tdap, (both are required) hepatitis A and human papillomavirus (HPV). These are recommended. Parents who need help determining what vaccinations are needed for their child to enter seventh grade this fall should call McLeod County Public Health (320-864-3185) for assistance or their health-care provider.

These immunizations do not replace a child’s physical, Well Child Check or Child and Teen Check Up clinic visit.

Ideas for easy weeknight meals

Two items which have pretty much become staples in my fridge or freezer are a ring of smoked sausage and frozen meatballs.

They are both great helpers to throw together a quick and tasty meal, with lots of options to do so.

Here are a few of my favorites.

One-Pan Cheesy Smoked Sausage and Pasta Skillet

1 tablespoon olive oil
1 pound smoked sausage, sliced
1 cup diced onion
1 tablespoon minced garlic (about two fresh cloves)
2 cups chicken broth
1 10-ounce can diced tomatoes
1/2 cup milk or heavy cream
8 ounces dry pasta (any small pasta will do)
1/2 teaspoon each of salt and pepper
1 cup shredded cheddar-jack cheese
1/3 cup chopped scallions, for garnish

Add olive oil to a 4-5-quart saute pan over medium high heat. Add onions and sausage and cook until lightly browned. Add garlic and cook for about 30 seconds.

Add chicken broth, tomatoes, milk, pasta, and seasonings. Bring the mixture to a boil, cover, and reduce heat to low. Simmer for about 15 minutes, or until pasta is tender.

My Turn Now

By Karin Ramige Cornwell

Turn off the heat and stir in 1/2 cup of cheese. Sprinkle remaining cheese on top and cover for about five minutes to allow cheese to melt. Top with sliced scallions and serve.

Meatball Sub Hotdish

1 loaf Italian bread, cut into 1-inch-thick slices
8 ounces cream cheese, softened
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
1/2 teaspoons black pepper
2 cups grated mozzarella cheese, divided
1-2 pounds frozen meatballs, thawed
4 cups marinara sauce
1/2 cup water

Arrange your bread slices in an ungreased 9x13-inch baking dish; set aside. In a bowl, combine cream cheese, mayonnaise, seasonings, and pepper; spread over bread slices. Sprinkle with half of the mozzarella; set aside. Mix together the meatballs, marinara and water; spoon over mozzarella. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake uncovered in a preheated 350-degree oven for 30 minutes.

Are you qualified for heaven?

The NCAA basketball tournament is in progress again with a very limited number of teams that make it into the tournament. So, what determines who gets in? Answer: teams qualify for the tournament by the quality of their play during the season.

Now consider a much more important issue: are you qualified to go to heaven? According to logic, many people agree that some kind of 'good' must be attained in life in order to qualify. However, not one of us likes to hear that God's qualifying standard for heaven is perfection.

What is our record in meeting God's standard for heaven? Admittedly, we must confess that during times of hardship or stressful situations, we have not always acted with endurance and great patience. When we experience life that treats us in a devastatingly unfair way, we have not always raised our voices in joyful thanksgiving to God - just to list a few of many situations. The truth is: we have a losing record and have failed miserably to attain perfection.

Do we have no chance to reach heaven? the good news is: God qualifies us for heaven. That's right. Jesus came into this world on a mission - to qualify us for heaven. Where we failed, He did it all perfectly. When we were stuck in darkness and death, He came and rescued us by enduring the punishment for all of our sins. He removes all the failures from our records and He replaces them with His perfection. In Christ, that is trusting in Him as our Savior, we are qualified for heaven!

"Giving thanks to the Father, who has qualified you to share in the inheritance of the saints in the kingdom of light. For He has rescued us from the dominion of darkness and brought us into the kingdom of the Son He loves, in whom we have redemption, the forgiveness of sins." — Colossians 1:12-14.
