Harder is new County Board chairperson

By Amy Newsom
Correspondent

At the regular Sibley County Board meeting on Tuesday, Jan. 5, Bobbie Harder was appointed the new chairperson of the Sibley County Board and Gary Kruggel was appointed as the vice chairperson. The Board also approved amending the rules of order to allow the Board chairperson to make and second motions and resolutions of the County Board.

County Website

The Sibley County Board passed resolution #2016-01 making the official location to advertise project bids for the 2016 construction season on the Sibley County website www.co.sibley.mn.us. Public Works Director Tim Becker said that they will continue to advertise project bids in the newspaper, but the website will now be the official location.

Solid Waste Licenses

Al Christensen, director of Tri-County Solid Waste, presented the Sibley County Board with the list of solid waste licenses. The list includes: Sibley Electric, River View Sanitation, Renville Sibley Sanitation, Gaylord Sanitation, Elite Waste Disposal, Waste Management (Mankato), and Mike's Roll-Offs. Christensen was pleased with the list stating that Sibley County offered more options than Nicollet or Le Sueur counties.

Christensen also stated that after winning the Recycling Association of Minnesota's Public Service Award for its agricultural (ag) bag recycling program, he has been asked to speak at various locations including McLeod County and the Solid Waste Administrators Association annual conference.

The ag bag program began in Sibley County in 2007. Farmers can recycle ag bag plastic, seed bag plastic, nylon feed bags, nylon and plastic twine, and nylon mesh hay bale netting twice per year. Recycling is available in Arlington, Gaylord, and Gibbon in April and October. The plastic materials are shredded into eight to 10-inch strips and have been sent to Canada and the I-90 project to be re-used.

Termination

The Board voted to terminate the home care program. Public Health and Human Services Director Vicki Stock stated that there is not enough staff to run the program and the program has decreased in size every year for the past four years. In 2014, the average monthly loss for the program was $6,236.88.

Stock has found three agencies that will come into Sibley County and provide the same level of services that clients have been receiving. Stock said that most of the clients are receiving homemaking services. Homemaking services include dusting, sweeping, floor scrubbing, personal laundry, grocery shopping, and running errands for the clients.

There are 10 part-time home health aides and homemakers that will be laid off when the program is terminated. These part-time employees work four to 12 hours per week. County Administrator Roxy Traxler said that these part-time employees equal about two full-time equivalents. No full-time positions will be eliminated. By eliminating this program the county anticipates a net savings of approximately $70,000 in 2016. The county will realize an even larger savings if the recently vacated RN position is not filled.

Stock said that the Minnesota Department of Health needs to approve the termination of the program. Once the state approves the termination, Stock's staff will notify clients of the termination and work with them to contact the new providers.

County Commissioner Bill Pinske questioned whether this change would result in an increase to clients. Stock stated that Medicare recipients and veterans will not see an increase, but private clients may or may not see an increase. Private clients will have to contact their new provider to determine the cost.

Drug-Free Grant

The County Board gave approval to Public Health and Human Services to apply for the second phase of the drug-free communities grant. The focus of the grant will be alcohol and marijuana use among students. The grant has a five-year cycle and the current grant will end June 30, but the new grant would not begin until Oct. 1. Public Health and Human Services Director Vicki Stock asked that the county fund the grant staff position during the interim. The Board approved funding the position during the interim at a cost of $17,500 which will come from reserves.

Harder voiced concerns over funding the position because it is supposed to be a grant funded position. She felt that when the grant is not available the position should not be funded.

City Council votes to eliminate part-time police officer positions

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The Arlington City Council, during its regular meeting on Monday night, Jan. 4, unanimously approved a motion to eliminate all part-time positions on the Arlington Police Department.

The City Council made the move after a recommendation from Arlington Police Chief Cory Danner.

City Council members Michelle Battcher, Jim Heiland, James Jaszewski, Jennifer Nuesse and Galen Willis all voted in favor of the motion.

With the move from two full-time to three full-time police officers at the start of 2015, there were not as many open shifts to fill, according to Danner.

In addition, the current part-time police officers were unable to cover a number of those remaining open shifts.

Danner then recommended that the Arlington Police Department contract with the Sibley County Sheriff's Department for coverage when needed. He said the move will also save money.

The City Council is expected to act upon the contract at a future meeting.

No ruling issued yet in the Sibley East and Kranz case

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The Sibley East Public Schools and rural Gaylord resident Nathan Kranz are still waiting for a ruling from the Honorable Kevin W. Eide, Judge of the District Court.

The Sibley East Public Schools made a motion for civil contempt and damages against surety bond against Kranz.

Sibley East asked the court for that order in connection with Kranz's failure to obey the court's amended order for surety bond and for a fine and/or damages to offset the increased costs that will ultimately be borne by the school district's taxpayers as a result of the contestant's protracted litigation.

Knutson, Flynn & Deans, P.A., which is representing Sibley East, said in an earlier news release, "The motion seeks an award of $2,903,424, the additional cost to the school district over the life of the bonds as computed by the school district's financial consultant. The voter-approved bonds were scheduled to be sold by Jan. 14, 2015, but were delayed by appeals filed by Nathan Kranz until June 10, 2015."

Erick Kaardal, who is representing Kranz, had sent a summons to Sibley East with a Notice of Motion and Motion for Rule 11 Sanctions.

Kranz is seeking attorney fees as sanctions under Rule 11 of the Minnesota Rules of Civil Procedure against Sibley East. The motion is based upon the recent filing of a motion for civil contempt and for damages filed by Sibley East.

Sibley East is seeking a post-judgment order for civil contempt and damages on the district court's amended order dated Jan. 22 which the appellate court adjudicated as moot, according to the motion by Kaardal.

Judge Eide listened to oral arguments on both matters on Monday, Nov. 16, 2015.

He took the matters under advisement and promised a prompt ruling as in the past.

Judge Eide has up to 90 days to make his ruling.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the First State Bank of Arlington was held at that institution Tuesday afternoon and there was an exceptionally good attendance. The First State Bank is one of the oldest institutions in the county, serving its patrons in this community for over 30 years. It has weathered more than one financial crisis during this long period of activity without a waver and enjoyed a steady growth in deposits during that time. It is recognized as one of the strongest financial institutions in the county. A air of optimism pervaded the meeting of the stockholders and they look forward to a year of prosperity for their bank as well as the banking business in general, due to the improved agricultural conditions in the northwest.

Roger in company with other young people was sliding on a hill on the Morrisette farm, and while coasting at considerable speed his sled struck a ditch and threw him against a tree stump. It was feared that the kidneys or spleen were ruptured and his condition was serious for several days, but last reports are that he is holding his own and physicians have hopes for his recovery.

They agreed that if the county adopts zoning the city will engage the same firm of consultants to help the zoning here. If the city adopts zoning now the federal government will pay two-thirds of the cost. Also by having zoning the city and county become eligible for many federal programs which would otherwise not be available to them.

January is National Radon Action Month

Sibley County Health and Human Services is offering free radon test kits on a first-come, first-serve basis to residents in the Sibley County area during "Radon Action Month."

People can obtain their free test kit at the Sibley County Service Center located at 111 Eighth Street in Gaylord or by calling 507-237-4000.

Radon is the leading environmental cause of cancer deaths in the United States and the leading cause of lung cancer among non-smokers. More than 21,000 lung cancer deaths are attributed to radon each year in the U.S.

Fortunately, the risk is largely preventable, by testing homes and fixing radon problems. About two in five Minnesota homes have dangerous levels of radon gas and state health officials say every home should be tested.

Radon is an odorless, colorless and tasteless radioactive gas that occurs naturally in Minnesota soils. It can enter into all kinds of homes through cracks or openings in walls or foundations. The only way for residents to know if their home has radon is to test.

Testing is easy, inexpensive and only takes three to five days. The best time to test is during the heating season, but testing can be done year-round. Test kits are available at county health departments, many hardware stores, or directly from radon testing laboratories.

Tests should be done in the lowest level of the home that is frequently occupied. If the home's level is at or above four picCi/L, people should consider verification testing and having a radon mitigation system installed. Anyone interested in mitigating his or her home for radon should consult MDH's list of certified radon mitigation contractors at <http://www.health.state.mn.us/divs/eh/indoorair/radon/mitigation.html>

During the month of January, the Minnesota Department of Health (MDH) is sponsoring radio and internet ads in the Twin Cities and Greater Minnesota to encourage people to test their homes. In addition, MDH has partnered with local public health departments to make test kits available to local residents at low or no cost.

MN Radon Awareness Act

The Minnesota Radon Awareness Act that went into effect on Jan. 1, 2014, now requires disclosure and information to be provided to buyers about radon during Minnesota home sales. The law requires sellers to inform buyers whether their home has been tested for radon and if so, what the levels are and whether the home has been mitigated for radon. In addition, sellers must provide a warning statement and a 2-page publication to the buyer. Radon tests can be incorporated into a home inspection. The law does not require radon testing or mitigation.

Another law requires all new homes built since 2009 be built with passive radon resistant features. About 1 in 5 of these newer homes have radon above the recommended action level; this is an improvement over the levels found in the overall Minnesota housing stock where about two in five homes have elevated levels. MDH encourages builders to activate the passive radon resistant features through the addition of a radon fan. In addition, new home buyers can request the fan be added during construction. In these new homes with radon fans, MDH has found very low radon concentrations.

MDH has been promoting a Gold Standard for Radon

Resistant New Construction Program to builders for over four years. Companies that participate in this program are promoted through MDH's website and print advertising and receive a point towards the Green Path designation. In addition, MDH provides technical support to builders, such as free radon fans for model homes and radon test kits.

To educate real estate professionals and builders about radon, MDH has been offering continuing education classes at no cost. Real estate companies, builders and their associations that are interested in the classes can contact MDH or review the course information at <http://www.health.state.mn.us/divs/eh/indoorair/radon/reest-atetrain.html>.

For more information on radon visit www.health.state.mn.us/radon or call Sibley County Health and Human Services at 507-237-4000 and/or the Minnesota Department of Health Indoor Air Unit at 651-201-4601 or 1-800-798-9050. Superintendent's Note Pad

SE building project continues to move forward

By Jim Amsden
Sibley East Superintendent
We are quickly approaching the half way point of the 2015-16 school year and have begun planning for the 2016-2017 school year and beyond.

The Sibley East School's building project is continuing to move forward. District residents may have noticed activity on the Gaylord new school site. Crews are installing a tile system to speed site drainage and preparing for excavation and ground work beginning as soon as possible this spring. Meanwhile, the planning and design phase continues for the Arlington site and bid documents are being prepared for a February bid phase for the 6-12 facility. Soil borings will be completed at Arlington in the next few weeks as preparations are made to begin excavation at this site in early spring as well. Wendell Architects continue to work on the Arlington design in concert with RA Morton Construction Management to determine the building phases. Parents and students can expect some alterations to the 2016-17 school calendar to accommodate construction. More information will come on these possible changes in February, 2016.

While the building plans and construction move forward, staff are preparing for what school programming will look like as the new schools open and welcome students in the fall of 2017. Administration and staff are engaged in researching best practice programming that will be incorporated within our new Pre K-5 and 6-12 grade alignments. There will be a great deal of discussion on how we make the best use of the new facilities as well as the combined staffing that the new grade alignments allow. I believe that we will be able to increase our offerings while maintaining staffing levels that work within the district budget.

The 18 months promise to bring many exciting opportunities and changes to our district residents, students, and staff. There will be times where adjustments and inconveniences will arise. With this in mind, we are working continuously to prepare and plan to make the transitions over the next months go as smoothly as possible.

If you have questions, concerns, or comments regarding Sibley East Schools please feel free to contact me at the district office 507-964-8224 or email jim.amsden@sibleyeast.org.

Schneider resigns as chair of Arli-Dazzle Committee

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The Arlington Area Chamber of Commerce, at its regular monthly meeting on Monday afternoon, Jan. 11, accepted a letter of resignation from Kim Schneider from her position as chairperson of the Arli-Dazzle Committee.

"As most of you are aware, I have been trying to step away from Arli-Dazzle for more than two years," said Schneider. "With that said, each year more of you step forward and have taken on much larger roles within the committee. You have made Arli-Dazzle the smashing success that it is. Thank you so much for your help and your friendship. Many of us have really become very close friends and it has been an honor and absolutely fantastic working with each of you."

Schneider continued, "I truly want you all to know that my decision to completely step away from Arli-Dazzle really, really is hard for me but is necessary. I would not be stepping away if this didn't impact my health."

Schneider, who has served as committee chairperson for the past eight years, said every successful event, committee or organization has a change in leadership.

"Planning for Arli-Dazzle 2016 needs to start in March in order to be ready for the Labor Day Launch which has become an important part of the foundation of Arli-Dazzle," said Schneider. "I will place all of my files and supplies in Chamber storage for ease of access. I am of course available for questions. However, plans and preparations are in place for this transition and all resource documents are available within our Arli-Dazzle Gmail account."

Schneider added she is thankful for the opportunities, experiences and friendships that she has been blessed with during the past eight years.

"Please don't let Arli-Dazzle fade away," said Schneider. "We have started a beautiful tradition. Please help it continue and flourish."

Minnesota Vikings have been disappointing their fans in big games for decades Our View: The ugly loss to Seattle should have been no surprise

The Minnesota Vikings football team has ripped the hearts out of their fans in big games for decades. It all started when the favored Vikings were upset by the Kansas City Chiefs 23-7 in the Super Bowl during the 1969 season.

Three more Super Bowl losses followed to the Miami Dolphins 24-7 during the 1973 season, Pittsburgh Steelers 16-6 during the 1974 season and Oakland Raiders 32-14 during the 1976 season.

Long time Minnesota fans will argue that the best Vikings team up to that time never even made it to the Super Bowl. The Dallas Cowboys shocked the Vikes 17-14 on a Hail Mary Pass from quarterback Roger Staubach to wide receiver Drew Pearson in the divisional playoffs during the 1975 season.

A 23-6 loss to American's Team followed in the conference championship two years later.

Since that time, losses in other conference championship games have kept the Vikings out of four more Super Bowls. Minnesota lost to the Washington Redskins 17-10 during the 1987 season, Atlanta Falcons 30-27 in overtime during the 1998 season, New York Giants 41-0 during the 2000 season and New Orleans 31-28 in overtime during the 2009 season. The pair of overtime losses really hurt.

The Vikings pulled the rug out from underneath their fans again after kicker Blair Walsh missed a routine field goal attempt in a 10-9 playoff loss to the Seattle Seahawks last Sunday. Another big game and another loss.

Prior to the playoffs this year, a lot of Minnesota fans believed the Vikings were still a year away from making a serious run in the post-season. That said, the loss still hurts the Vikings fan base which has been aching for another deep run in the playoffs and a return to the Super Bowl.

The pieces are in place for this young team and the loyal Minnesota fans have nothing to do, but wait until next year.

Letters To The Editor

Back to the basics, back to success

To The Editor,

Constituents of the Sibley East School District, today I announce my candidacy for the position of Sibley East School Board member left vacant by the sudden and sad death of Beth DuFrane. Though I can never hope to fill the shoes of Beth DuFrane, who worked tirelessly to keep the education and success of our children a priority for citizens across our district, I can commit to continue the work Beth was passionate about and to work with each of you to assure that the Sibley East School District will launch our children in a manner that helps them succeed in life.

As I thought about how we can accomplish this goal within the Sibley East School District I am led to believe that we create pathways to success for our children in a very simple and basic way. By building on the age old basics of reading, writing and arithmetic; subjects that may at first glance sound boring and uninspiring, but that are all required for our children to compete in a global society. These basic principles do not limit the arts, technology, drama or any other 21st century endeavor our children will choose to pursue, but they are the critical building blocks for being able to reason, imagine, and communicate with a world that is changing by the minute.

I invite you today to join me in remembering our past and imagining our future and to be part of building on the successes, meeting the challenges with courage, and working together to help every student who enters the doors of a Sibley East School District campus be proud of being a Wolverine.

Hey, things could be worse for you at the office! You could, for example, receive feedback like these comments, purported to be taken from actual federal employee evaluations:

- "Since my last report, this employee has reached rock bottom and has started to dig."
- "Works well under constant supervision and when cornered like a rat in a trap."
- "Sets low personal standards and consistently fails to achieve them."
- "This employee is depriving a village somewhere of an idiot."

For many years a woman worked as a receptionist and switchboard operator at a very busy company. After a good annual review, the woman's supervisor told her that she was up for a raise, pending approval of the vice president.

A month later, the supervisor called the woman into his office and told her that the vice president had refused to approve the salary hike.

His reason? The receptionist and switchboard operator wasn't doing her job. Every time he saw the woman, she was either chatting with someone in the lobby or talking on the telephone.

Nothing makes your clothes go out of fashion faster than getting a raise.

A couple was watching the gorillas at the zoo when several of them charged at the enclosure fence, scattering the crowd, except for one elderly man. Later, the woman asked the elderly man how he kept his composure.

"I used to drive a school bus," he explained.

The pastor of a church hates to plead for money. But when the coffers were running low, he had no choice.

"There's good news and there's bad news," he told the congregation. "The good news is that we have more than enough money for all the current and future needs of the parish. The bad news is it's still in your pockets."

During a priest's sermon, a large plant fell over right behind the pulpit, crashing to the ground. Acknowledging his reputation for long-windedness, he smiled sheepishly and said, "Well, that's the first time I actually put a plant to sleep."

Earth got a gift in Paris

To The Editor,

The scientific community has been telling the world that burning fossil fuels and their production of CO2 is having dire effects on the world as a whole. Weather patterns go out of whack; above freezing at the North Pole; rising sea levels; persistent repeat weather patterns that cause flooding; droughts on the west coast; forest fires that produce air pollution; Minnesotans - remember the polar vortex? Maybe it is trying to tell us something.

When things are done on a global scale, it takes time and negotiations for action to take place. It has taken seven years of time to bring all the nations of the world together to address this problem which affects us all. (Yes, even the 1% who seem to think they are immune to such drudgery.) The Paris Conference on Climate Change was held the end of November 2015 through the first two weeks of December. President Obama said in a speech from the White House's Cabinet room and I quote, "The problem is not solved because of this accord, but make no mistake, the Paris agreement establishes the enduring framework the world needs to solve the climate crisis. It creates the mechanism, the architecture, for us to tackle this problem in an effective way." This agreement was signed by 195 countries, both large and small. Does it solve the problem? No, it doesn't, but it gives us the means to solve it.

Now the hard part begins. Goals set at the Conference were not binding and dependent on governing bodies in individual countries to approve. One can hear the "deniers" already - but, this matter is truly serious. Fortunately, we have a president who grasps the global picture and a state Senator (Al Franken) who has addressed this matter to Congress. This should not be political, but you can bet your bottom dollar that it will be. The Big Oil Companies do not contribute millions of dollars to candidates who will look at the world as a whole, but only to those who maintain status quo and look out for the bottom line of their contributors. In this matter, it is extremely short sighted.

We are talking about a livable planet.

Some of the items that were taken into consideration at the Paris Conference were the disparities in wealth of the countries. Big, wealthy, countries will help small countries. Superfund should be created to help people who currently work in fossil fuel production and handling with re-training. There will be thousands of new jobs created for "green" technology. We have only begun to fight. Suggestions include non-investment into more fossil fuels. My suggestion is we start with discontinuing subsidies of oil producing companies. They need to change. Smart companies would invest in green technology. One of my friends works with geothermal energy. This should be one of the places where the "smart money" goes.

This is far more encompassing than Beautiful Downtown Hutchinson. We are talking about a livable planet for the upcoming generations. This is serious business, folks.

Council told bridge work may continue through winter

City Engineer Joe Duncan recently reported to the Belle City Council that the embankment work for the overpass/Enterprise Drive project is "virtually complete" and the borrow site has been secured, according to an article in the Belle Plaine Herald.

Previously, no work was scheduled for the winter months but due to a schedule change with another project, Duncan said the contractor, S.M. Hentges and Sons of Jordan, may begin pile driving for the bridge abutment early this month. He added that the guardrail around the center pier might also be completed soon, which would allow the temporary concrete barriers to be removed from Highway 169.

At this time, the project as a whole is approximately one month ahead of schedule. The completion date for the project is Oct. 14, 2016.

Glenn V. Meyer, age 85, of Arlington passed away at the Ridgeview Medical Center in Waconia on Tuesday, Jan. 12.

Funeral services will be held at Peace Lutheran Church in Arlington at 11 a.m. Saturday, Jan. 16.

Visitation will be held at the church from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Friday, Jan. 15. It will continue one hour prior to the service at the church on Saturday, Jan. 16.

Interment will be in the Arlington Public Cemetery.

Glenn Vernon Meyer was born to William J. and Elsie (Hebeisen) Meyer in Washington Lake Township on April 26, 1930. He worked at the Green Isle Creamery and as a milk truck driver for H.M. Noack & Sons Produce of Arlington, picking up milk in cans from area farmers. He also worked at Brau Motors as a mechanic for 13 years. Glenn married Ramona

Bullert of Buffalo Lake at Zion Lutheran Church in Buffalo Lake on Aug. 20, 1950. He was self-employed 38 years as a filling station operator, repairing vehicles and running a towing service which was known as Glenn's Mobil Service and also known as Arlington Sinclair Service. Glenn and Ramona lived in Arlington all of their married life except for spending the winter months in later years in Yuma, Ariz. Glenn was a past member of the Arlington Volunteer Fire Department, Sibley County Agriculture Association (fair board), Arlington Lions Club, Aid Association for Lutherans branch officer, church officer and City of Arlington Councilman. He was past president of Pla-Mor Dance Club and he and Ramona were also royalty representing Po.lka Lovers Club of America. Glenn was a charter member of Peace Lutheran Church of Arlington. He loved family activities, dancing, fixing mostly anything, just hanging out with folks at the coffee shop and spending winters in Yuma, Ariz., as that is where he didn't hurt as much. Kolden Funeral Home of Arlington is assisting with arrangements.

James 'Jimmy' Krohn, 63, Arlington

James Walter "Jimmy" Krohn, age 63, of Arlington, formerly Courtland, died peacefully at the Oak Terrace Health Care Center in Gaylord on Saturday, Jan. 9.

Funeral service will be at Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Nicollet at 11 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 14. Pastor Dan Witte will officiate.

Visitation was at Trinity Lutheran Church in Nicollet from 4 p.m. to 7 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 13. Visitation continued one hour prior to the service at the church on Thursday, Jan. 14.

Burial will follow in the Trinity Lutheran Cemetery in rural Nicollet.

James Walter Krohn was born to Walter and Wanita (Burnett) Krohn in New Ulm on Oct. 14, 1952. He was baptized and confirmed at Trinity Lutheran Church in Nicollet. He attended a special education school in St. Peter where his teacher, Mrs. Monica Daufenbach, took him under her wing as he grew up. Despite being born with Downs Syndrome, Jimmy refused to allow his handicap to hinder living his life. He grew up on his family farm where he worked with his father until Walter's passing in 2007. Jimmy then moved to the High Island Creek Residence in Arlington where he thrived. While being cared for in Arlington, he was able to live independently, and also work a job that he took tremendous pride in. He later broke his hip and required more advanced care, and moved to the Good Samaritan Society in Arlington. After being hospitalized at Ridgeview in Waconia from his seizures, he was admitted to Oak Terrace in Gaylord where he was allowed to live the rest of his life in comfort and peace. Jimmy will forever be remembered as being the life of any party. If it was bowling, playing pool, wedding dances, bar karaoke, or giving one of his famous speeches, Jimmy and his infectious belly laugh would bring a smile to anyone's face. Due to the fact he was born a Krohn, Jimmy also had a wonderful gift to be able to visit with anyone who would listen. He also greatly enjoyed sports. He loved following all of the Nicollet High School's sports teams, but especially cherished watching and following professional wrestling. He was a lifetime member of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church in Nicollet, the Sons of the American Legion, and a past member of the Nicollet 4-H. Jimmy's memory will forever stay in the hearts of all of those who knew and loved him.

James is survived by his sisters, Patricia (John) Rist of rural Courtland, and Nancy (Gary) Gatchell of Cushing; brother, David (Jane) Krohn of Arlington; sister-in-law, Teresa Krohn of rural Courtland; and many nieces, nephews, cousins, and friends.

He was preceded in death by his parents; and his brother, Donald Krohn.

And he will raise you up on eagles' wings, bear you on the breath of dawn, make you to shine like the sun, and hold you in the palm of His hand.

To leave an online condolence for his family, or to sign the guestbook, go to www.mvfh.org.

SE boys fall to NYA 77-68

By Kurt Menk
Editor

The Sibley East varsity boys basketball team lost to visiting Norwood Young America 77-68 in Minnesota River Conference action on Thursday evening, Jan. 8.

Junior Scott Holmquist paced the Wolverines with 18 points. Senior Collin Pautsch and sophomore Austin Weckwerth also hit double figures with 16 points each. Sophomore Gavin Bates tossed in eight points while junior Devon Schultz and senior Dylan Pauly hooped six and four points respectively.

Sibley East blistered the nets after it hit 23 of 38 shots from two-point range for 61 percent and six of 12 long bombs for 50 percent. The Wolverines, however, managed only four of nine foul attempts for 44 percent.

The visitors connected on 26 of 42 attempts from two-point distance for 62 percent and five of 18 shots from three-point land for 28 percent. NYA also sank 10 of 13 charity tosses for 77 percent.

Despite the setback, Sibley East controlled the glass by a 26-15 margin. Schultz pulled down eight boards while Weckwerth snared six caroms. Bates added five rebounds.

The Wolverines, 0-4 in the MRC and 4-8 overall, will travel to G-F-W in non-conference action at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 14. Sibley East will host Mayer Lutheran in conference action at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 19.

Sibley East girls lose to NYA 66-41

By Kurt Menk

The visiting Sibley East varsity girls basketball team lost to Norwood Young America 66-41 in Minnesota River Conference action on Friday night, Jan. 8.

Senior Katie Tuchtenhagen and junior Hannah Wentzloff hooped 12 points apiece in the loss. Senior Alyssa Weber netted eight points while junior Alli Harter had three points. Senior McKayla Stumm, sophomore Morgan Stearns and freshman Rachel Rettmann added two points each.

"We went into the game with two objectives, stop their perimeter shooting and Kali Grimm," said Sibley East head coach Jim DeSart. "She is their leading scorer, so we wanted to focus on her, which we were somewhat successful holding her to 12 points. We also wanted to get their interior player Bren Fox into foul trouble. She is tough inside and we were successful in getting her a quick three fouls to soften up the inside game."

DeSart continued, "Though the score doesn't reflect it, we had some pretty good minutes here and there in the game. For the game, I was pleased with how hard the girls worked."

DeSart said the Lady Wolverines need to continue working on their person-to-person defense, taking better care of the ball and getting to the free throw line.

"We are lacking in the area of attacking the basket off the dribble," said DeSart. "That is where you get more opportunities getting to the free throw line. Of the seven games we have played so far, we have given up an extra 51 points versus our team from the line on the scoreboard with opponents shooting roughly 70 percent from the line versus our free throws 54 percent. We need to become better free-throw shooters in general. That is a lot of points to leave out on the floor and shooting roughly 75 less free throw attempts than opponents does not help win ball games. We continue to work at practice on shooting, perimeter shooting and free throw form. We have a lot to improve on with shooting form and continued funda-mentals."

The Lady Wolverines, 1-1 in the MRC 2-6 overall, will travel to New Ulm Cathedral in non-conference action on Thursday, Jan. 14. Sibley East will host Maple River in non-conference play at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 18. In addition, the Lady Wolverines will travel to Mayer Lutheran in MRC play at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 19.

B-squad

The visiting Sibley East B-squad girls basketball team lost to Norwood Young America 49-18 on Friday night, Jan. 8.

Morgan Stearns topped Sibley East with eight points. Ali Stock scored four points while Emily Tuchtenhagen, Morgan Mathews and Sydney Schott had two points each.

Stock contributed three assists, three steals and two rebounds while Rachel Rettmann had four boards, two steals and two blocked shots. Schott collected four rebounds, one assist and one theft while Stearns added four caroms.
